How does a good software solution support process management? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. With a central object repository
- B. With version control
- C. By collaboration/commenting features
- D. By exporting and importing
- E. With a seamless printing feature

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

A robust software solution like SAP Signavio supports Business Process Management by providing tools to manage, collaborate, and maintain process assets. The SAP Signavio Process Transformation Suite Documentation outlines:

* Exact Extract: "Effective process management software supports:

* Version Control: To track changes and maintain process model history.

* Collaboration/Commenting Features: To enable stakeholder feedback and teamwork on process models.

* Central Object Repository: To store and reuse process elements, ensuring consistency across models." (SAP Signavio Process Transformation Suite Overview, section on "Process Management Software Features").

* Explanation:

* Option A (With version control): Version control tracks changes to process models, allowing users to revert to previous versions or review modification history, critical for maintaining accuracy in SAP Signavio Process Manager.

* Option D (By collaboration/commenting features): Collaboration features, such as commenting in the SAP Signavio Process Collaboration Hub, enable stakeholders to provide feedback, discuss improvements, and align on process designs.

* Option E (With a central object repository): A central repository (e.g., the Dictionary in SAP Signavio) stores reusable process elements like tasks or roles, ensuring consistency and reducing redundancy across models.

* Option B (With a seamless printing feature) is incorrect as printing, while useful, is not a core process management function compared to version control or collaboration.

* Option C (By exporting and importing) is incorrect because exporting/importing is a secondary feature for data transfer, not a primary process management support mechanism.
