CWNP Certified Wireless IoT Solutions Administrator(2025 Edition) Sample Questions (Q57-Q62):

NEW QUESTION # 57

What is an important acceptance agreement to achieve in the final customer meeting for a wireless IoT deployment?

- A. Power supply provisioning
- B. Scope definition
- C. Stakeholder acceptance

- D. Support for wearable IoT solutions

Answer: C

Explanation:

Successful Deployment Depends on Buy-In: A final customer meeting signifies the handover phase. Achieving stakeholder agreement ensures everyone impacted by the solution has a voice and feels their concerns are addressed.

Sign-Off and Formal Acceptance: Stakeholders often need to formally "sign-off" on a project's completion, indicating satisfaction and readiness for operational use.

NEW QUESTION # 58

What is defined as the weakening of signal amplitude as the signal passes through a medium?

- A. Reflection
- B. Scattering
- C. Diffraction
- D. Attenuation

Answer: D

Explanation:

* Attenuation: Describes the progressive loss of signal strength as it travels through a medium (like air, cables, walls). It's caused by factors like absorption, distance, and obstacles.

* Other Phenomena:

* Diffraction: Bending of waves around obstacles.

* Reflection: Waves bouncing off surfaces.

* Scattering:  Waves dispersing in multiple directions.

NEW QUESTION # 59

What user authentication method is commonly used in guest Wi-Fi networks in the hospitality industry?

- A. Kerberos
- B. SIM cards
- C. Captive portal
- D. NTLM

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Captive Portals for Guest Access: These are web pages that intercept users' requests before granting full internet access. They often require agreeing to terms, entering basic information, or viewing ads.

* Hospitality Fit: Captive portals are simple to deploy, require minimal user setup, and provide control for the hospitality provider (e.g., usage limits).

* Why Other Options Are Less Common:

* NTLM: Microsoft authentication, mainly for corporate networks, too complex for casual guest use.

* Kerberos: Complex authentication for enterprise, overkill for guest Wi-Fi

* SIM Cards: Used in cellular devices, not for general Wi-Fi access.

References:

Captive Portals: Explanations of how they work and their use cases.

Guest Wi-Fi in Hospitality: Best practices highlight the prevalence of captive portals in this industry.

NEW QUESTION # 60

You must plan for encryption in a wireless solution deployment. What type of data should always be encrypted? (Choose the single best answer.)

- A. Non-sensitive data at rest

- B. Sensitive data in memory
- C. Sensitive data in transmission
- D. Non-sensitive data in archives

Answer: C

Explanation:

Most Vulnerable In Transit: Sensitive data (passwords, health information, etc.) is most susceptible to interception while being sent over a wireless network. Encryption is crucial at this stage.

Encryption at Rest and in Memory: While also important, these are often handled with different cryptographic techniques depending on the system.

NEW QUESTION # 61

When deploying devices in an indoor manufacturing environment, which IP rating is more likely to be required?

- A. IP47
- B. IP46
- C. IP38
- D. IP66

Answer: D

Explanation:

IP Ratings & Manufacturing: IP66 provides:

Dust-tight: (First '6') Complete protection against dust ingress.

Powerful Water Jets: (Second '6') Protection against strong water jets from any direction.

Harsh Manufacturing Environments: IP66 is common due to dust, dirt, and potential exposure to liquids during cleaning or spills.

NEW QUESTION # 62
