Salesforce B2B Commerce for Developers Accredited Professional Sample Questions (Q68-Q73):

NEW QUESTION # 68

Which three considerations should a developer keep in mind when creating a tax provider?

- A. How to handle errors
- B. Whether to use JSON or XML
- C. Success criteria
- D. Whether an AppExchange package already exists

- E. What events to fire in the Lightning Web Component

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

When creating a tax provider in Salesforce B2B Commerce, developers should consider the data format (JSON or XML) for interoperability with the tax service, define clear success criteria to ensure accurate tax calculations, and implement robust error handling to manage exceptions and failures gracefully. Salesforce B2B Commerce documentation emphasizes the importance of these considerations for integrating external services, ensuring reliability and consistency in tax calculations across different jurisdictions and scenarios.

NEW QUESTION # 69

What is one requirement to keep in mind when including additional JavaScript files in a Lightning Web Component?

- A. Only five of the files can be used with an import statement
- B. Only one of the files can be used with an import statement
- C. All the files must be imported to a singleton.js file and the singleton.js file can be used with an import statement
- D. The files must be ES6 modules and must have names that are unique within the component's folder.

Answer: D

Explanation:

When including additional JavaScript files in a Lightning Web Component, it is required that these files are ECMAScript 6 (ES6) modules and have unique names within the component's folder. This ensures proper module resolution and avoids namespace conflicts. Salesforce LWC documentation provides guidelines on organizing component resources, including JavaScript modules, to ensure they are correctly recognized and utilized within the LWC framework.

NEW QUESTION # 70

What are two ways a developer should ensure that a store verifies changes by using an external service?

- A. Create a trigger to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery, Group Methods
- B. Create an Apex class to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery Group Method.
- C. Create an Apex class implementing the `sfdc_checkout.CartShippingCharges` interface to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and register it as the .. calculation integration in the store administration.
- D. Create a flow using an action to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery Group Methods.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

To verify changes by using an external service, a developer can use either of these two ways:

Create an Apex class that implements the `sfdc_checkout.CartShippingCharges` interface and defines the `getShippingCharges` method. This method takes a Cart object as an input parameter and returns a list of `CartDeliveryGroupMethod` objects with the updated shipping charges. The developer then needs to register the Apex class as the Shipping Calculation Integration in the store administration. This way, the store can call the external service to calculate the shipping charges for each delivery group in the cart. Create an Apex class that defines a method to retrieve the shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery Group Method object. The developer then needs to invoke this method from a trigger on the Cart Delivery Group Method object. This way, the store can update the shipping charges whenever the delivery group method is inserted or updated.

The other options are not valid ways to verify changes by using an external service. Creating a flow using an action is not supported for B2B Commerce, and creating a trigger on the Cart Delivery Group object will not update the shipping charges for each delivery group method.

NEW QUESTION # 71

Which two components in a B2B store template should a developer use to customize a storefront page?

- A. Order List
- B. My Lists
- C. Product List
- D. Address List

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Two components in a B2B store template that a developer can use to customize a storefront page are My Lists and Product List. My Lists is a standard component that displays and manages lists of products that customers can create, save, or share in the storefront. A developer can use this component to enable customers to organize their favorite or frequently purchased products into lists and access them easily. Product List is a standard component that displays and filters products from one or more product lists in the storefront. A developer can use this component to showcase products from different categories or collections and allow customers to browse or search for products based on various criteria. Order List is not a component in a B2B store template, but rather an object that stores information about orders placed by customers in the storefront. Address List is not a component either, but rather an object that stores information about addresses associated with customers in the storefront. NEW QUESTION # 72

A developer has created a custom Lightning web component to display on the Product Detail page in the store. When the developer goes to add the component to the page in Experience Builder, it is missing from the list of custom components. Which XML fragment should the developer include in the component's configuration XML file to ensure the custom component is available to add to the page?

- A. ☐
- B. ☐
- C. ☐
- D. ☐

Answer: D

Explanation:

The XML fragment that the developer should include in the component's configuration XML file to ensure the custom component is available to add to the page is option B. Option B uses the <targets> tag to specify where the component can be used in an app. The <targets> tag contains a list of <target> tags, each of which defines a valid target for the component. The value of the <target> tag for the Product Detail page in the store is lightningCommunity__RecordPage, which means that the component can be used on any record page in a Lightning community. Option A is incorrect because it uses an invalid value for the <target> tag. There is no such target as lightningCommunity__ProductDetailPage. Option C is incorrect because it uses an invalid syntax for the <targets> tag. The <targets> tag should not have any attributes, such as isAvailable. Option D is incorrect because it uses an invalid syntax for the <target> tag. The <target> tag should not be self-closing, but rather have a closing tag (</target>).
