OCEG GRC Professional Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q73-Q78):

NEW QUESTION # 73

Why is it important to provide a helpline for the workforce and other stakeholders?

- A. To evaluate the effectiveness of the education program
- B. To allow them to seek guidance about future conduct, ask general questions, and have the option for anonymity
- C. To develop new content for the education program based on questions asked
- D. To define the learning objectives for the workforce

Answer: B

Explanation:

Providing a helpline for the workforce and other stakeholders is an essential component of effective governance, risk, and compliance

(GRC) programs. A helpline serves as a confidential communication channel for employees and stakeholders to ask questions, report concerns, and seek guidance about ethical, legal, and procedural matters.

Key Reasons to Provide a Helpline:

* Guidance on Future Conduct:

* A helpline provides employees and stakeholders with advice on how to handle ethical dilemmas, comply with policies, and make informed decisions about future actions.

* Example: An employee may call the helpline to ask how to handle a potential conflict of interest.

* Opportunity for General Questions:

* The helpline can address a broad range of questions related to compliance, policies, or organizational values, ensuring clarity and consistency in communication.

* Anonymity and Confidentiality:

* Providing anonymity encourages employees and stakeholders to report concerns or seek advice without fear of retaliation, fostering a culture of trust and transparency.

* Example: Reporting suspected misconduct or fraud through an anonymous helpline.

* Support for Reporting Misconduct:

* A helpline is a critical tool for enabling whistleblowing and ensuring that ethical concerns are addressed promptly and appropriately.

Why Option D is Correct:

The helpline enables stakeholders to seek guidance about future conduct, ask general questions, and report concerns anonymously, promoting ethical behavior and organizational transparency.

Why the Other Options Are Incorrect:

* A. Define learning objectives: Defining learning objectives is part of the education program design, not the primary purpose of a helpline.

* B. Evaluate education program effectiveness: While feedback from the helpline may provide insights, this is not the main purpose of having a helpline.

* C. Develop new content: Questions asked via the helpline may inspire content, but this is not its primary function.

References and Resources:

* ISO 37001:2016- Anti-Bribery Management Systems: Recommends helplines for reporting concerns and seeking guidance.

* OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises- Highlights the importance of accessible communication channels for ethical conduct.

* COSO ERM Framework- Emphasizes creating a culture of trust and accountability through tools like helplines.

* Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOX)- Mandates whistleblower protections and reporting mechanisms.

- B. To oversee employees and meet target objectives for the unit being managed.
- C. To directly address opportunities, obstacles, and obligations.
- D. To minimize costs and maximize profits.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The primary focus of management actions and controls in the Integrated Actions and Controls Model (IACM) is to directly address opportunities, obstacles, and obligations to support the achievement of objectives.

* Addressing Opportunities, Obstacles, and Obligations:

* Opportunities: Enable the organization to capitalize on favorable conditions.

* Obstacles: Mitigate risks or barriers to achieving objectives.

* Obligations: Ensure compliance with legal, regulatory, and ethical requirements.

* Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

* A: While overseeing employees is part of management, the broader focus is addressing strategic priorities.

* C: Cost minimization and profit maximization are financial goals, not the primary focus of IACM management actions.
