NEW QUESTION # 122

You are a functional consultant configuring items in Dynamics 365 Business Central.

You are configuring multiple units of measure for an item that has a base unit of measure of PCS and an additional unit of measure of BOX. One BOX holds 20 PCS of an item.

You need to define the relationship between the units of measure.

Which value should you populate on the Item Units of Measure page for the item?

- A. For the BOX unit of measure, set the Qty. per Unit of Measure to 20.
- B. For the PCS unit of measure, set the Qty. per Unit of Measure to 20.
- C. For the BOX unit of measure, set the Qty. per Unit of Measure to 0.05.

- D. For the PCS unit of measure, set the Qty. per Unit of Measure to 0.05.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Business Central, the Item Units of Measure page defines conversion rules between the base unit and alternate units.

The field Qty. per Unit of Measure specifies how many base units are contained in the alternate unit.

Since the base unit is PCS, and one BOX contains 20 PCS, the correct configuration is:

BOX # Qty. per Unit of Measure = 20.

The system then automatically converts between PCS and BOX when documents are created.

Setting PCS to 0.05 or 20 would be incorrect because PCS is already the base unit (it always has 1 as Qty. per Unit of Measure).
