Topic 2	• Performance and Scalability: This section of the exam measures the skills of Appian Developers and covers designing performant components, building memory-efficient models, conducting database load and automated testing, analyzing server memory and logs for risks, and resolving performance concerns for end users.
Topic 3	• Advanced Appian Concepts: This section of the exam measures the skills of Solution Architects and covers creating and configuring authentication methods, setting up integration objects, designing APIs, evaluating smart services and plug-ins, and applying SSO mechanisms with SAML and LDAP.

Topic 4	• Data Management: This section of the exam measures the skills of Solution Architects and covers designing and documenting data models, recommending record types for optimization and security, working with relational data, and implementing complex models with supporting objects.

Appian Senior Developer Sample Questions (Q36-Q41):

NEW QUESTION # 36
You're refining a story for a centralized distribution center that extends the current application by allowing inventory managers to review orders.
These orders are created through a record action that various workshops access from a shared Appian site.
Which consideration best suits this use case?

- A. What components have already been built relating to this piece of functionality so that you can reuse them and speed up development?
- B. What are the personas that will be utilizing this application so that an Appian group structure can be developed and maintained?
- C. How will you handle errors resulting from a failed integration as a result of the workshops using an external system to place orders?

Answer: A

Explanation:
Identifying the personas (such as inventory managers and workshop users) ensures you can design and maintain an appropriate Appian group structure for managing access and permissions, which is critical for a centralized application accessed by multiple roles.

NEW QUESTION # 37
Your client reported that a form in the application is very slow to load.
You investigate and find a query entity which is nor performing well.
Which action should you perform to improve query performance for the query entity?

- A. Apply indices on all the fields referred in the query.
- B. Apply the appropriate filters and indices in both Appian and the database.
- C. Change the data source of the query entity to a view with a WHERE clause.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Applying appropriate filters and indices in both Appian and the database ensures that only relevant data is retrieved and the database query runs efficiently, improving overall query performance.

NEW QUESTION # 38
Which section of the Interface Performance View explains the contribution towards the overall evaluation time of the current function, rule, or parameter?

- A. Parameters and Direct Children
- B. Descendant Rules
- C. Precedent Functions and Rules

Answer: A

Explanation:
The "Parameters and Direct Children" section of the Interface Performance View explains the contribution towards the overall evaluation time of the current function, rule, or parameter.

NEW QUESTION # 39

You're creating a point-of-sale (POS) system for a customer which can associate the items in a transaction to a customer based on a membership number. The item stock table and the customer sales record are hosted elsewhere and need to be written to via POST APIs from an Appian process model. This all occurs within a transaction process model that you're creating.

Which two steps should you perform to design your process model to improve process memory? (Choose two.)

- A. Ensure that the entire process is activity-chained so that the person entering the transaction knows when the process is completed.
- B. Create the two POST APIs as asynchronous subprocesses.
- C. Add a terminate process node to the end of the process.
- D. Create the two POST APIs as synchronous subprocesses.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Creating the POST API calls as asynchronous subprocesses allows them to run independently, reducing memory usage in the main process.

Adding a terminate process node at the end ensures the process completes and releases memory as soon as its work is finished.

NEW QUESTION # 40

You're in the process of deploying a package to the client's TEST environment at the end of a sprint. This package is only relating to changes to a single application.

Which two statements best describes the practices you should follow for automated testing for expression rules either before or after deploying the package? (Choose two.)

- A. During Compare and Deploy, the Inspect Deployment tab automatically runs the test cases in each of the expression rules. Review these findings, and either adjust the expression rule or delete outdated test cases.
- B. After deploying the package, you should perform regression testing by running the Start Rule Tests (All) smart service to automatically run the test cases. This indicates whether there are any impacts caused by the changes across multiple applications.
- C. Before using Compare and Deploy, individually evaluate the test cases in the expression rules you intend to deploy. For any failed test case, adjust the expression rule so that it passes.
- D. After deploying the package, you should perform regression testing by running the Start Rule Tests (Applications) smart service to automatically run the test cases. This indicates whether there are any impacts caused by changes to the application.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Individually evaluating and fixing expression rule test cases before deployment ensures the new package does not introduce errors.

Running regression tests after deployment using the Start Rule Tests (Applications) smart service validates that the deployed changes did not negatively impact the application.
