NEW QUESTION # 27

Which type of risk occurs due to volatile environments in which businesses operate and the nature of their operations?

- A. Business Risk
- B. Project Risk

- C. Quality Risk
- D. Auditing Risk

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

Business risk is the risk of loss or damage to an organization's performance, reputation, assets, or stakeholders due to internal or external factors that affect its ability to achieve its objectives. Business risk can arise from various sources, such as market conditions, customer preferences, competition, technology, regulation, compliance, operations, finance, human resources, or natural disasters. Business risk can have a direct or indirect impact on an organization's profitability, growth, sustainability, or continuity.

NEW QUESTION # 28

A disaster can also be declared for an illness pandemic where a significant portion of employees are sick.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

A disaster can also be declared for an illness pandemic where a significant portion of employees are sick. This is true because an illness pandemic is a type of natural disaster that can affect an organization's ability to continue its normal operations. An illness pandemic can cause absenteeism, reduced productivity, increased costs, supply chain disruptions, customer dissatisfaction, or regulatory compliance issues. Therefore, an organization may need to declare a disaster and activate its business continuity and disaster recovery plan if an illness pandemic impacts its critical functions and processes beyond an acceptable level. NEW QUESTION # 31

There are several reasons why a company would develop and implement a business continuity plan. Which of the following properly describes the best reason?

- A. The continuation of a company
- B. Compliance with regulations
- C. Properly react to disasters
- D. To increase liability

Answer: A

Explanation:

The primary reason for developing and implementing a business continuity plan is to ensure the continuation of a company's critical functions and processes in the face of a disruption that may otherwise cause severe losses or damage to the company's reputation, assets, customers, or stakeholders. A business continuity plan can help a company to resume operations as quickly as possible after a disruption, minimize the impact on its performance and profitability, protect its brand and image, and fulfill its legal and contractual obligations.
