NEW QUESTION # 69

An administrator wants to be warned about suspicious activity, such as file deletion, for the company's Files installation, How can the administrator accomplish this task in File Analytics?

- A. use Audit Trails search engine.
- B. Configure alerts notifications from the Gear menu.
- C. Create a dashboard for deleted files.
- D. Define a new anomaly rule,

Answer: D

Explanation:

To be warned about suspicious activity, such as file deletion, for the company's Files installation, the administrator can define a new anomaly rule in File Analytics. Anomaly rules alert when specific types of activity occur, such as processes that indicate ransomware or data manipulation. By creating a new anomaly rule, the administrator can specify the activity they want to monitor and alert on, such as when a file is deleted in the company's Files installation.

NEW QUESTION # 71

An existing Objects bucket was created for backups with these parameters:

- A) WORM policy of three years
- B) Versioning policy of two years
- C) Lifecycle policy of two years

The customer reports that the cluster is nearly full due to backups created during a recent crypto locker attack. The customer would like to automatically delete backups older than one year to free up space in the cluster.

How should the administrator change settings within Objects?

- A. Create a new bucket with the WORM policy of two years.
- B. Modify the existing bucket WORM policy from three years to one year.
- C. Create a new bucket with the lifecycle policy of one year.
- D. Modify the existing bucket lifecycle policy from two years to one year.

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to Nutanix documentation on unified storage (NCP-US) v6, to automatically delete backups older than one year, an administrator should modify the existing bucket lifecycle policy to set the expiration period to one year. Lifecycle policies enable administrators to automate the transition of objects to different storage classes and to expire them altogether. In this scenario, modifying the existing bucket lifecycle policy to shorten the expiration period to one year will ensure that backups older than one year are automatically deleted to free up space in the cluster.

NEW QUESTION # 72

The Files administrator has received reports from users in the accounting department that they can see folders that they don't have permission to access. The accounting department manager has requested that employees should only be able to see folders that they have permission to access.

How would a Files administrator ensure that users in the accounting share can only see folders they have permission to access?

- A. Remove read-only access to shares users should not access.
- B. Enable Access-Based Enumeration on the accounting share.
- C. Remove File Blocking on the accounting shares.
- D. Enable Access-Based Enumeration on the File Server.

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to Nutanix Support & Insights¹, Access-based enumeration (ABE) is a Windows feature that filters the list of available files and folders on the file server to include only those the requesting user can access. ABE can be enabled on a per-share basis for SMB shares.

Therefore, if the Files administrator wants to ensure that users in the accounting share can only see folders they have permission to access, they can enable ABE on the accounting share.
