NEW QUESTION # 19

The architect is designing a flow where a screen flow is used to create a contact and display a confirmation screen. While the confirmation screen is displayed, remote API is invoked to update the contact in the external system. The update fails. How should the architect resolve the design?

- A. Use a separate transaction to update the contact in the external system.
- B. Add error handling mechanism to the flow and test often and early.
- C. Use the Process builder instead of flow.
- D. Use Apex since updating a contact in the remote system is not possible in flow.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In the scenario where a remote API update fails after creating a contact through a screen flow, incorporating an error handling mechanism within the flow is essential. Regular testing during the development phase helps identify potential issues early, ensuring the flow functions as intended upon deployment.
