Saviynt IGA Certified Professional Exam (L100) Sample Questions (Q34-Q39):

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which of the following connection types is best suited to expose Workday reports as a data service?

- A. Workday-OAuth
- B. Workday-REST
- C. Workday-RAAS
- D. Workday-SOAP

Answer: C

Explanation:
The connection type best suited to expose Workday reports as a data service in Saviynt is A. Workday- RAAS (Report as a Service). Here's why:
* Workday-RAAS: This connection type is specifically designed to integrate with Workday's RaaS functionality. Workday RaaS allows you to expose custom reports created within Workday as web services that can be consumed by external applications like Saviynt.
* Data Service for Reports: RaaS essentially turns a Workday report into a data service, making it easy to retrieve the report's data in a structured format (typically XML or JSON).
* Saviynt's Integration: Saviynt's Workday-RAAS connection type is built to leverage this capability, allowing you to:
* Select Workday Reports: Choose the specific Workday reports you want to integrate with.
* Import Data: Import the data from those reports into Saviynt for various purposes (e.g., identity governance, access certification, analytics).
* Schedule Imports: Schedule regular data imports to keep Saviynt's data synchronized with Workday.
* Why Other Options Are Less Suitable:
* B. Workday-REST: While Workday has a REST API, it's more general-purpose and not specifically tailored for exposing reports as data services in the same way as RaaS.
* C. Workday-OAuth: OAuth is an authorization protocol, not a connection type for retrieving report data.
* D. Workday-SOAP: Workday's SOAP API is being gradually replaced by the REST API and is less focused on report data retrieval than RaaS.

NEW QUESTION # 35

The process of Attestation or Certification can be best described as:

- A. Segregation of Duties
- B. Access Reviews
- C. Application Onboarding
- D. Access Request

Answer: B

Explanation:
The process of Attestation or Certification in the context of Saviynt can be best described as B. Access Reviews. Here's why:
* Attestation/Certification: These terms are often used interchangeably in the context of identity governance. They refer to the process of formally reviewing and approving or revoking user access rights.
* Access Reviews: This is the broader term that encompasses the entire process of periodically reviewing user access to ensure it is appropriate and aligned with business needs and security policies. Attestation and Certification are specific actions performed within an access review.
* Saviynt's Campaigns: Saviynt's campaigns are designed to facilitate and manage access reviews.
* Why Other Options Are Less Suitable:
* A. Segregation of Duties: SoD is a principle that aims to prevent fraud and errors by dividing critical tasks among different individuals. While access reviews can help enforce SoD, they are not the same thing.

* C. Access Request: This is the process of requesting access to resources, which is a separate process from reviewing existing access.
* D. Application Onboarding: This is the process of integrating an application into Saviynt, which is a prerequisite for access reviews but not the review process itself.
In conclusion: Attestation or Certification, as performed within Saviynt campaigns, are integral parts of the broader process of Access Reviews, which aim to ensure that user access is appropriate, authorized, and aligned with security policies.

NEW QUESTION # 36
Which of the following options is part of the Saviynt Identity Repository?

- A. Users, Identity Rules, Workflows, Roles
- B. Users, Accounts, Entitlements, Roles
- C. Users, User Groups, Workflows, SAV Roles
- D. Users, Accounts, Entitlements, Workflows

Answer: B

Explanation:
Saviynt's Identity Repository is the central hub for storing and managing all identity-related information. It includes:
* Users: Representing individuals and their attributes.
* Accounts: Representing user access to specific systems or applications.
* Entitlements: Representing permissions and access rights within those systems.
* Roles: Representing collections of entitlements that define job functions or responsibilities.
Why other options are incorrect:
* A, B, and D: These options include elements like Identity Rules, Workflows, and SAV Roles, which are important components of Saviynt but are not core parts of the Identity Repository itself.
Saviynt IGA References:
* Saviynt Documentation: The section on the Identity Repository describes its function and the types of data it stores.
* Saviynt User Interface: The Identity Repository is a key section within the Saviynt interface, where you can view and manage users, accounts, entitlements, and roles.

NEW QUESTION # 37
Anitha, a manager, has a large number of users reporting to her, with most of them working remotely.
Which of the following Campaign Types would you recommend for this scenario to reduce certification fatigue for Anitha?

- A. Launch User Manager Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items
- B. Launch Service Account Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items
- C. Launch a Self Certification Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items
- D. Launch Application Owner Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items

Answer: C

Explanation:
To reduce certification fatigue for Anitha, a manager with a large number of remote users, the recommended approach is C. Launch a Self Certification Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items. Here's the rationale:
* Self Certification Campaign:
* Purpose: Allows users to review and certify their own access.
* Benefits for this scenario:
* Reduces Manager Burden: Shifts the initial review responsibility from Anitha to the individual users, who are most familiar with their own access needs.
* Scalability: Well-suited for large, distributed teams, as it doesn't rely solely on the manager's capacity.
* Empowerment: Gives users more control over their access and promotes a culture of accountability.
* User Manager Campaign on Certified Items:
* Purpose: Allows managers to review and certify their subordinates' access.
* Benefits when combined with Self Certification:
* Focus on Exceptions: Anitha can focus her review on items that were not self-certified or that require further scrutiny after the initial self-certification.
* Reduced Volume: The volume of items Anitha needs to review is significantly reduced, as users have already certified their own access.

* Increased Efficiency: Streamlines the manager's review process, making it more manageable and less time-consuming.
* Why Other Options Are Less Suitable:
* A. Launch User Manager Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items: This sequence is less effective because it puts the burden on the manager first, potentially leading to fatigue.
* B. Launch Application Owner Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items: Application Owner campaigns are not relevant to a manager's review of their subordinates' access.
* D. Launch Service Account Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items:
Service Account campaigns are for reviewing service accounts, not user access.

NEW QUESTION # 38
In the process of setting up Single Sign-On using SAML 2.0, the "SP Entity ID" acts as a unique identifier for the Saviynt SP. If "SP Entity ID" is set to the value of SaviyntSP, which of the following will be the correct Single Sign-On URL to log in to EIC?

- A. https://myorg.saviyntcloud.com/SaviyntSP
- B. https://myorg.saviyntcloud.com/ECM/saml/SSO/SaviyntSP
- C. https://myorg.saviyntcloud.com/ECM/saml/SSO/alias/SaviyntSP

Answer: C

Explanation:
In Saviynt's SAML 2.0 based Single Sign-On (SSO) configuration, the "SP Entity ID" uniquely identifies Saviynt as the Service Provider (SP) to the Identity Provider (IdP). The correct SSO URL structure incorporates this "SP Entity ID" within a specific path.
* Saviynt's URL Structure: Saviynt's SSO URLs follow a pattern to ensure proper routing and authentication. The /ECM/saml/SSO/alias/ portion is crucial for directing SAML-based login attempts.
Why the other options are incorrect:
* A. https://myorg.saviyntcloud.com/ECM/saml/SSO/SaviyntSP: This URL is missing the crucial "alias" segment in the path, making it invalid for SAML SSO.
* B. https://myorg.saviyntcloud.com/SaviyntSP: This URL doesn't include the necessary components for SAML-based authentication within Saviynt.
Saviynt IGA References:
* Saviynt Documentation: Saviynt's official documentation on configuring SAML SSO provides details on the correct URL structure and the significance of the "SP Entity ID."
* Saviynt Support: Saviynt's support resources and knowledge base articles often address issues related to SSO configuration, reinforcing the correct URL format
