CATCH cx_sy_conversion_no_number.
out->write(|Error: { c_char } is not a number!|).
CATCH cx_sy_itab_line_not_found.
out->write(|Error: Itab contains less than { 2 / c_char } rows|).
ENDTRY.

- A. cx_sy_conversion_no_number
- B. cx_sy_zerodivide
- C. cx_sy_itab_line_not_found

Answer: A

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation from Exact Extract:
Here, c_char is defined as a character type with a space ' ' as its value.
When attempting 2 / c_char, ABAP tries to interpret the character ' ' as a number. Since it is not a numeric value, ABAP raises the conversion error cx_sy_conversion_no_number.
* cx_sy_zerodivide would occur only if the denominator was zero numeric.

* cx_sy_itab_line_not_found applies to internal table access errors, not relevant here.
This is consistent with ABAP Cloud runtime exception handling, where strict typing and error categories are clearly defined.

- A. They can have any number of key fields.
- B. They may have key fields.
- C. They can have relationships to other tables.
- D. They store information in two dimensions.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:
Database tables are data structures that store information in two dimensions, using rows and columns. Each row represents a record or an entity, and each column represents an attribute or a field. Database tables may have key fields, which are columns that uniquely identify each row or a subset of rows. Key fields can be used to enforce data integrity, perform efficient searches, and establish relationships to other tables. Database tables can have relationships to other tables, which are associations or links between the key fields of two or more tables. Relationships can be used to model the logical connections between different entities, join data from multiple tables, and enforce referential integrity12.
