The OSPF network must be designed so that flapping routes in EIGRP domains do not affect the SPF runs within OSPF. The design solution must not affect the way EIGRP routes are propagated into the EIGRP domains. Which technique accomplishes the requirement?

- A. route summarization on the ASBR interfaces facing the OSPF domain
- B. route summarization on EIGRP routers connecting toward the ASBR
- C. route summarization on the appropriate ASBRs.

Which development model is closely associated with traditional project management?

- A. Evolutionary delivery model
- B. Agile model
- C. Static model
- D. Lifecycle model

Answer: D

Explanation:

* D (Lifecycle model): The lifecycle model aligns directly with traditional project management (such as Waterfall). It follows a sequential, phase-driven process: requirement gathering, design, implementation, testing, and maintenance. Each phase must be completed before moving to the next, with defined milestones and documentation.

Other options explained:

* A: "Static model" is not a standard recognized development model.

* B: Agile is iterative and adaptive, opposite of traditional models.

* C: Evolutionary delivery is more incremental, not fully aligned with traditional models.

The team also analyzes enterprise telemetry data from IPFIX data records that are received from devices in the campus network. Which action can be taken based on the augmented data?

- A. adoption and improvement of threat-detection response
- B. asset identification and grouping decisions
- C. reduction in time to detect and respond to threats
- D. integration with an incident response plan

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 396

[Security, Automation, and Policy Integration in Design] A banking customer using mobile token authentication suffers unauthorized access through phishing. Which policy change helps prevent this in the future?

- A. Monitor connections to unknown cloud instances using SSL decryption
- B. Monitor the privileges for users making firewall configuration changes
- C. Monitor all API interfacing to the storage platform for suspicious activity
- D. Monitor any access from the outside except for expected operational areas

Other options:

* B: Monitoring APIs helps but doesn't directly address phishing-based redirection.

* C: Blanket outside access restrictions are impractical and not effective against token hijacking.

* D: Firewall config changes are administrative-level concerns, unrelated to app-level token misuse.
