NEW QUESTION # 109

How many subjects are in the short form of the US Census?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 110

The concepts of vehicular-pedestrian circulation separation, of through traffic on the periphery of superblocks, and of internal park systems were first developed in the United States in the town of:

- A. Radburn
- B. Reston
- C. Columbia
- D. Savannah

Answer: A

Explanation:

These concepts-separating vehicular and pedestrian circulation, routing through traffic around superblocks, and integrating internal park systems-were pioneered in Radburn, New Jersey, in 1929, a planned community designed by Clarence Stein and Henry Wright. Radburn introduced the "Radburn Idea," emphasizing pedestrian safety and green spaces within superblocks. The APA's AICP Certification Exam Content Outline(2022), under "Fundamental Planning Knowledge," states, "Radburn, NJ, was the first U.S.

community to implement vehicular-pedestrian separation, peripheral through traffic, and internal park systems." Option A (Columbia) and B (Reston) are later planned communities (1960s) that built on Radburn's ideas. Option D (Savannah, 1733) used a grid with squares but didn't implement these concepts. The CPC Study Manual(2024) confirms, "Radburn introduced these planning principles in 1929, influencing modern community design," supporting option C.

NEW QUESTION # 111

- A. Daniel Burnham
- B. Edward Bassett
- C. Patrick Geddes
- D. Ian McHarg

NEW QUESTION # 112

Design guidelines for an urban district should:

- A. Establish structure for later project reviews.
- B. Apply only to public actions.
- C. Avoid performance criteria in favor of specific standards.
- D. Apply only to private actions.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Design guidelines for an urban district provide a framework to ensure consistent, high-quality development that aligns with the community's vision. Option C (establish structure for later project reviews) is the primary purpose, as guidelines set clear criteria for evaluating future projects, ensuring they meet aesthetic, functional, and community goals. The APA's AICP Certification Exam Content Outline(2022), under "Plan and Policy Development," states, "Design guidelines should establish a structured framework for reviewing projects to ensure consistency with urban design objectives." Option A (private actions only) and B (public actions only) are incorrect, as guidelines typically apply to both. Option D (avoiding performance criteria) is incorrect, as guidelines often include both performance and specific standards to balance flexibility and clarity. The CPC Study Manual(2024) confirms, "Design guidelines provide a structured basis for project reviews, ensuring alignment with district goals," supporting option C.

NEW QUESTION # 113

Which of the following statements represents a transportation goal rather than an objective?

- A. Achieve accessibility and mobility for all citizens of the community
- B. Achieve a level of service D on all major arterials
- C. Achieve a 35% fare box recovery
- D. Meet the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) by 2001

Answer: A

Explanation:

In planning, goals are broad, aspirational statements of desired outcomes, while objectives are specific, measurable steps to achieve those goals. Option A (achieve accessibility and mobility for all citizens) is a broad, overarching goal that reflects a community-wide vision for transportation. The APA's AICP Certification Exam Content Outline(2022), under "Plan and Policy Development," defines goals as "broad statements of intent, such as ensuring accessibility and mobility for all," and objectives as "specific, measurable targets." Options B (level of service D), C (35% fare box recovery), and D (meet ADA requirements by 2001) are specific and measurable, making them objectives. For example, level of service D is a quantifiable standard, and fare box recovery is a financial target. The CPC Study Manual(2024) states,

"A transportation goal might be to enhance accessibility for all, while objectives include specific metrics like fare recovery or infrastructure standards," supporting option A.
