NEW QUESTION # 82

A user receives a new personal computer but is unable to run an application. An error displays saying that .

NET Framework 3.5 is required and not found. Which of the following actions is the best way to resolve this issue?

- A. Forward the trouble ticket to the SOC team because the issue poses a great security risk.
- B. Ignore the dependency and install the latest version 4 instead.
- C. Download the dependency via a third-party repository.
- D. Resolve the dependency through the 'Turn Windows features on or off' menu.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

NET Framework versions are often required for applications to run. If an older app requires .NET Framework 3.5, it must be explicitly installed as it is not included by default in newer versions of Windows. The best method to do this safely is through the built-in "Turn Windows features on or off" utility, which downloads and installs it via official Microsoft services.

B: Using third-party repositories is unsafe and not recommended.

C: Installing .NET 4 does not include 3.5; versions are not fully backward compatible.

D: The issue is technical, not a security incident for the SOC team.
