- A. Create virtual support agents using Chat Bot template.

- B. Create a self service community using Customer Service template.
- C. Create a peer-to-peer forum using Self Service template.
- D. Create a smart queue router using Service Cloud template.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 93

As a pilot, Ursa Major Solar's customers from California were assigned to a page variation for the Home page so that the layout looks slightly different than for customers from other states. The page variation uses a Rich Content Editor component assigned solely to Platinum customers.

- A. All Platinum customers
- B. All customers
- C. All Platinum customers from California
- D. All customers from California

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Rich Content Editor component will be visible to all Platinum customers from California. This is because UMS has assigned the component solely to Platinum customers using Audience Targeting, which is a feature that allows UMS to display different content to different audiences based on criteria such as profile, location, domain, or user. UMS has also assigned the page variation for the Home page to customers from California using Page Variations, which is a feature that allows UMS to create different versions of a page and assign them to different audiences based on criteria such as record type, field value, or ownership.
