NEW QUESTION # 58

In the Interactive Analytics "Visual Chart" (the bar chart at the top), an analyst clicks on a specific colored bar segment representing "Error" events.

What is the immediate effect on the query filters?

- A. It deletes the logs.
- B. It opens the event in a new tab.

- C. It highlights the bar but does nothing to the data below.
- D. It automatically adds a filter to the current query corresponding to the clicked segment (e.g., adds event_type = Error or the specific time range of that bar), effectively "Drilling Down" into that specific subset of data.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 59

An operator logs into VCF Operations successfully but sees an empty Dashboard List, even though the administrator claims to have shared the "Operations-Health" dashboard with the operator's group.

User Status

Login: Success

RBAC Role: "General User" (Assigned to 'All Objects')

Dashboard Status

Name: Operations-Health

Shared With: "Everyone" Group

What is the most likely reason the dashboard is not appearing for the user?

- A. The "General User" role does not have the "View Dashboard" privilege enabled in its permissions list.
- B. The user's browser is blocking pop-ups.
- C. The Dashboard was shared, but the user must manually "Import" it from the Dashboard Library before it appears on their home screen menu.
- D. The user's account is locked in Active Directory.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 60

A DevOps team manages all their Cloud Templates (Blueprints) in a GitHub repository to track changes and enable peer review.

They want VCF Automation Assembler to automatically sync these templates so that the latest version in GitHub is always available for deployment.

Which integration feature facilitates this workflow?

- A. The "Code Stream" Pipeline.
- B. The "Git Webhook" in Orchestrator.
- C. Git Integration (under Infrastructure -> Connections). The administrator adds a GitHub integration, authenticates with a token, and maps a specific repository and branch. Assembler then syncs the YAML files from that repo, making them available as Cloud Templates in the design canvas.
- D. The "Marketplace" download.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 61

An administrator is trying to configure an action-based notification in VCF Operations. When trying to set the Outbound Method, the administrator is not able to continue. What type of Plugin must the administrator configure to successfully complete the task?

- A. Log File
- B. Webhook Notification
- C. SMTP Trap
- D. Standard Email

Answer: B

Explanation:

The administrator must configure a Webhook Notification plug-in. Action-based notifications in VCF Operations are tied to Workload Placement actions, where the notification is sent when a workload-placement action succeeds, fails, or times out.

Broadcom's documentation for creating notification rules for notification type Action identifies this workflow as Workload Placement action-based notification. (TechDocs) For outbound delivery, the required plug-in type is the Webhook Notification plug-in, which is the supported outbound mechanism for sending action notification payloads to an external endpoint. Broadcom's outbound plug-in documentation describes adding a Webhook Notification plug-in instance so alert or event data can be sent outside the operations platform. (TechDocs) A Log File plug-in is not used for action-based notification delivery. "SMTP Trap" is not the correct VCF Operations outbound plug-in type; email uses Standard Email, and trap delivery would be SNMP-oriented. Standard Email is valid for alert-style notification workflows, but WLP action-based notification requires Webhook. Reference topic: Objective 4.9 - Notifications / Outbound Plugins / WLP Action-Based Notifications / Webhook Notification Plugin .

Current Topology

FD1: 4 Nodes

What is the correct scaling procedure for a CA-enabled cluster?

- A. Add the new nodes to a "Third Fault Domain" to create a RAID-5 like protection scheme.
- B. Disable CA, add 2 nodes to FD1 only, and re-enable CA.
- C. Add 2 nodes to the Witness site to boost arbitration performance.
