Salesforce Certified CRM Analytics and Einstein Discovery Consultant Sample Questions (Q11-Q16):

NEW QUESTION # 11

A data architect wants to use a recipe transformation to implement row level security based on role hierarchy in Salesforce. Which transformation should the architect use to level the dataset hierarchy?

- A. Flatten
- B. Aggregate
- C. Join

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 12

A consultant runs the sharing inheritance coverage assessment for the Opportunity object and finds that some records exceed 400 sharing descriptors.

What should the consultant do?

- A. Increase the sharing descriptor limit in the analytics settings.
- B. Use security predicates in CRM Analytics.
- C. Contact Salesforce Support to increase the sharing descriptor limit.

Answer: B

Explanation:

When a record exceeds 400 sharing descriptors, it can cause performance issues or sharing rule complications in CRM Analytics. In such cases, the recommended solution is to use security predicates, which allow fine-tuned control over which data is visible to users based on their sharing rules and permissions. Security predicates reduce the number of sharing descriptors by enforcing security at the dataset level rather than relying solely on record-sharing mechanisms.

Increasing the sharing descriptor limit is not an available option, and Salesforce Support does not typically increase this limit, making the use of security predicates the best approach.

NEW QUESTION # 13

A manager at Cloud Kicks wants to separate and analyze accounts based on numeric information of its opportunity records. The data includes things like amount, quantity of products, contacts, and quotes.

How should the CRM Analytics consultant accomplish this?

- A. Aggregate to summarize related data to account level.
- B. Cluster in the recipes and select the metrics used for clusterization.
- C. Bucket for each measure and then use a global bucket to segment accounts.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 14

At Universal Containers, a dashboard is built to track sales metrics. The Opportunity amount field has conditional formatting added - it turns green for closed won and red for closed lost.

How should a CRM Analytics consultant enhance the dashboard design to become more accessible to users with color vision challenges?

- A. Make the numbers bold to emphasize whether it is won or lost.
- B. Add up and down arrow next to the KPIs to make it more understandable.
- C. Position Alt Texts next to the KPIs to make it more understandable.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Enhancing accessibility, especially for users with color vision challenges, is critical. Adding up and down arrows next to the KPIs:

* Visual Cues: Provides a non-color dependent method to indicate whether metrics are positive (up arrow) or negative (down arrow).

* Accessibility: Improves understanding for users with color vision deficiencies, ensuring that the dashboard is inclusive.

* User Experience: Enhances the overall usability of the dashboard by making the interpretation of data straightforward and less reliant on color.

NEW QUESTION # 15

A CRM Analytics consultant is asked to help a company report on its sales activity. The company wants to train some users to create dashboards. The company also wants one other specific team to be able to use the dashboards. What should the consultant do to address these requirements?

- A. Use a permission set license with two different levels of access.
- B. configure a permission set license assignment with two different levels of access.
- C. Clone the existing permission set with different system permissions.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To meet the requirement of training some users to create dashboards while giving another team access to use (but not modify) those dashboards, the best approach is to configure a permission set license assignment with two different levels of access. You can assign specific permissions for dashboard creation to one group of users and viewing permissions to the other. This ensures the appropriate level of access based on the role without the need for duplicating permission sets or licenses unnecessarily.
