The Cloudera sector is an ever-evolving and rapidly growing industry that is crucial in shaping our lives today. With the growing demand for skilled Cloudera professionals, obtaining CDP Data Engineer - Certification Exam (CDP-3002) certification exam has become increasingly important for those who are looking to advance their careers and stay competitive in the job market.

Cloudera CDP Data Engineer - Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q146-Q151):

NEW QUESTION # 146
What is the primary purpose of using Cloudera's API in a data engineering context?

- A. To increase the time it takes to deploy applications.
- B. To manually configure and start cluster services.
- C. To automate the provisioning, configuration, and scaling of clusters.
- D. To bypass security configurations for rapid development.

Answer: C

Explanation:
The primary purpose of using Cloudera's API in a data engineering context is to automate the provisioning, configuration, and scaling of clusters. This enables efficient management of big data environments by allowing programmatic control over various aspects of the cluster, reducing the need for manual intervention and enabling faster and more reliable deployments.

NEW QUESTION # 147
When deploying a packaged PySpark application using 'spark-submit', which option is used to include the packaged dependencies?

- A. -files
- B. --packages
- C. --py-files
- D. --jars

Answer: C

Explanation:
The '-py-files' option is used with 'spark-submit' to include additional Python files or packages (like .zip, .egg, or .py files) necessary for the application, such as the packaged dependencies in a wheel file.

NEW QUESTION # 148
How does Spark achieve fault tolerance during distributed processing?

- A. By implementing automatic checkpointing of intermediate results
- B. By restarting failed tasks on different nodes
- C. By replicating data across all nodes in the cluster
- D. null

Answer: D

Explanation:
Spark employs a combination of data lineage tracking, checkpointing, and task re-execution to ensure job completion even in the event of node failures.

NEW QUESTION # 149
In the context of Spark, what is a potential downside of indiscriminate use of data caching, especially with the MEMORY_AND DISK storage level?

- A. It can lead to reduced fault tolerance due to reliance on in-memory storage.

- B. It may increase execution time due to overheads from frequent disk 1/0 operations.
- C. It enhances data security by storing intermediate results in encrypted form.
- D. It can decrease network traffic by reducing the need for data shuffling.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Indiscriminate caching, especially with the MEMORY_AND DISK storage level, can lead to increased execution time due to the overheads associated with frequent disk I/O operations. When the memory capacity is exceeded, data is spilled to disk, which can significantly slow down data access compared to in-memory operations. While this approach ensures that the data is not lost if it exceeds memory capacity, it introduces additional latency due to disk access times.

NEW QUESTION # 150
Consider the following code snippet:# Sample DataFrame (assuming it exists) df = spark.createDataFrame(...)
Attempt to explode a nested array column (fix the error)
df_exploded = df.withColumn("items", F.explode(df["items"]))
df_exploded.show()
What is the error in this code, and how can it be fixed?

- A. The error is attempting to modify the original DataFrame in-place. Fix: Use a separate variable to store the exploded DataFrame.
- B. There is no error in the code snippet.
- C. The error is missing parentheses around the column name in the explode function. Fix: F.explode(df("items"))
- D. The error is using withColumn instead of a dedicated method for exploding arrays. Fix: Use df.withColumnExploded. (This function doesn't exist in Spark)

Answer: A
