NEW QUESTION # 37
Which of the following are three components of business continuity plan? (Choose three)

- A. Business recovery
- B. Disaster recovery
- C. Problem management
- D. Incident management
- E. Emergency response

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:
Explanation
The three components of a business continuity plan are emergency response, incident management, and disaster recovery. They are:
Emergency response: This component involves the immediate actions taken to protect the life, health, and safety of people and the environment in the event of a disruption. Emergency response may include activating alarms, evacuating premises, contacting emergency services, or providing first aid.
Incident management: This component involves the coordination and communication of the activities and resources required to manage and resolve a disruption. Incident management may include activating the business continuity team, declaring a disaster, assessing the impact, activating the recovery strategies, or communicating with stakeholders.
Disaster recovery: This component involves the restoration and recovery of the IT systems, data, and infrastructure that support the critical functions and processes of the organization. Disaster recovery may include activating the backup systems, restoring the data, repairing or replacing the equipment, or testing the functionality. NEW QUESTION # 39
BIA stands for

- A. Business Improvement Activities
- B. Business Impact Analysis
- C. Business Importance and Availability
- D. Business Information Availability

Answer: B

Explanation:
Explanation
Business impact analysis (BIA) is the process of identifying and prioritizing the organization's functions and processes based on their importance to the organization's objectives, and assessing the potential impacts of a disruption to those functions and processes over time. The BIA helps to determine the recovery time objectives (RTOs), recovery point objectives (RPOs), and resource requirements for each function and process, as well as the interdependencies and dependencies among them. The BIA provides the basis for developing recovery strategies and plans. Verified References:

NEW QUESTION # 41
Tolerating risk is where no action is taken to mitigate or reduce a risk.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:
Explanation
Tolerating risk is where no action is taken to mitigate or reduce a risk. This is true because tolerating risk is one of the possible strategies for managing risk. Tolerating risk means accepting or retaining a risk without taking any further action to reduce it, either because the risk level is acceptable or because the cost or effort of reducing it is not justified. Tolerating risk may be appropriate for low-priority or low-impact risks that do not pose a significant threat to the organization's objectives. Verified References:
