NEW QUESTION # 24

Which of the following are recognized DSDM styles of Timebox?

1. Unstructured
 2. Consolidated
- A. Both 1 and 2 are true
 - B. Only 2 is true
 - C. Only 1 is true
 - D. Neither 1 or 2 is true

Answer: A

Explanation:

DSDM recognizes two styles of Timebox: a structured Timebox and a free format Timebox¹. The structured Timebox is the original DSDM-style Timebox, which provides a standard, repeatable internal structure to a Timebox. The free format Timebox allows more flexibility

NEW QUESTION # 25

Which of the common Agile concepts, behaviors, and techniques delivers a version of a product with just enough features to be usable by early customers who can then provide feedback for future product development?

- A. Full transparency.
- B. Self-organized teams.
- C. Minimum viable product.
- D. Empowerment.

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Minimum Viable Product (MVP): An MVP allows early customers to use a product and provide valuable feedback, which is then incorporated into subsequent iterations. This is central to Agile practices, emphasizing incremental delivery and responsiveness to user needs.

* Other Options:

* B: Full transparency relates to visibility into processes and progress, not product development.

* C and D: These refer to team dynamics, not product delivery.

Key AgilePM Concepts Referenced:

* Incremental Delivery: AgilePM Handbook, Chapter 3, Section 3.7.

- A. To document how stakeholders will be engaged and standards that will be applied.
- B. To define the tools, techniques, customer, practices and standards that will be applied
- C. To define the scope of the requirements that the project needs to address

NEW QUESTION # 27

In the context of the project organization, which of the following are classed as External Stakeholders by Agile?

Regulatory Authorities

Developers

Customers

Employees

- A. 2, 3, 4
- B. 1, 2, 4
- C. 1, 3, 4
- D. 1, 2, 3

Answer: C

Explanation:

AgilePM distinguishes clearly between internal delivery roles (the project team and its immediate governance) and the wider set of external stakeholders who affect, constrain, or benefit from the solution. Developers are part of the internal Solution Development Team-hence not external stakeholders. By contrast, Regulatory Authorities are external parties that impose compliance obligations and quality constraints; they influence acceptance and release but are outside the project team structure. Customers (and users) are also external stakeholders: they receive value, validate usability, and provide feedback, yet they are not members of the delivery team itself. Employees who sit outside the formal project team (e.g., business staff impacted by change, operational personnel, support and sales teams) are treated as external stakeholders because they are affected by the solution and provide input, but they don't hold delivery roles. AgilePM's organization model embeds active business involvement through defined roles inside the team, while also recognizing a broader environment of external interests that must be engaged and managed. Therefore, the items that best fit the "external stakeholder" classification are 1 (Regulatory Authorities), 3 (Customers), and 4 (Employees); 2 (Developers) belong to the internal delivery team.

NEW QUESTION # 28

Which of the following is NOT an interest into which each DSDM role is grouped?

- A. Maintenance
