NEW QUESTION # 67

When viewing data for CPML objects in the Postgres database, what table column should be selected to query for the object instance?

- A. CPM Global M
- B. fwset
- C. GuiDBedit
- D. CpmiHostCkp

Answer: D

Explanation:

The CpmiHostCkp table in the Postgres database contains the data for CPMI objects, such as gateways, clusters, and servers. The table column that should be selected to query for the object instance is the objid column, which is the primary key of the table and uniquely identifies each object. The objid column can be used to join with other tables that reference CPMI objects, such as CpmiClusterMember, CpmiCluster, and CpmiServer. The objid column can also be used to retrieve the object name, IP address, type, and other attributes from the CpmiHostCkp table itself. Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 70

You receive reports that Users cannot browse internet sites. You are using identity awareness with AD Query and Identity Collector in addition you have the Browser Based Authentication Enabled. What command can be used to debug the problem?

- A. on the management: ad query debug extended
- B. on the gateway: pdp debug nac extended
- C. on the gateway: ad query debug on
- D. on the gateway: ad debug on

Answer: B

Explanation:

Identity Awareness is a feature that enables the Security Gateway to identify users and groups behind IP addresses, and apply security policies based on their identity<sup>12</sup>. Identity Awareness uses different methods to acquire identities, such as AD Query, Identity Collector, and Browser-Based Authentication<sup>12</sup>. To debug Identity Awareness issues, you need to use the command pdp debug on the gateway, where pdp stands for Policy Decision Point, the component that handles the identity acquisition and enforcement<sup>13</sup>. The command pdp debug has different flags for different identity sources, such as adlog for AD Query, ic for Identity Collector, and nac for Browser-Based Authentication<sup>13</sup>. The flag extended enables more detailed debug output<sup>13</sup>.

Therefore, the correct command to debug the problem of users not being able to browse internet sites with Identity Awareness using AD Query, Identity Collector, and Browser-Based Authentication is `pdp debug nac extended on the gateway`<sup>13</sup>. The other options are incorrect because they either use the wrong command (`ad debug` instead of `pdp debug`), the wrong flag (`ad query` instead of `nac`), or the wrong location (on the management instead of on the gateway).
