NEW QUESTION # 34

A state department has been developing a new computer system for managing federal grants. The project has the following costs:

Evaluation of department needs	$100,000
Selection of third-party developer	$ 25,000
Development of system	$500,000
Development of interfaces to other systems	$ 75,000
Data conversion necessary to make the software operational	$ 50,000
Testing the new software	$130,000
Training	$ 15,000
Ongoing maintenance costs	$ 20,000

What amount should be recorded as the value of the intangible asset?

- A. $755,000
- B. $915,000
- C. $705,000
- D. $575,000

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to GASB Statement No. 51 (Accounting and Financial Reporting for Intangible Assets), only costs incurred during the "application development stage" are capitalized for internally generated software. These include:

#Development of the system - $500,000

#Development of interfaces - $75,000

#Data conversion necessary to make software operational - $50,000

#Testing the software - $130,000

Excluded (should be expensed):

#Evaluation of needs (preliminary) - $100,000

#Selection of developer - $25,000

#Staff training - $15,000

#Ongoing maintenance - $20,000

Total Capitalizable Costs:

$$500,000 + $75,000 + $50,000 + $130,000 = $755,000$

NEW QUESTION # 35

In state and local financial audits, material weaknesses must be reported to the

- A. taxpayers.
- B. legislature.
- C. local media.
- D. governing body.

Answer: D

Explanation:

What Are Material Weaknesses?

* A material weakness in internal control is a deficiency or combination of deficiencies that creates a reasonable possibility of a material misstatement in the financial statements that would not be prevented or detected in a timely manner.

* In the context of state and local financial audits, material weaknesses must be reported to those charged with governance, as they are responsible for oversight and corrective actions.

Why Is the Governing Body the Correct Answer?

* The governing body (e.g., city council, county board, or state commission) is directly responsible for overseeing the entity's financial operations and ensuring accountability. Reporting material weaknesses to them ensures that corrective actions can be implemented to strengthen internal controls.

* Auditors communicate such findings through an audit report or a management letter addressed to the governing body.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

* A. Legislature: The legislature may have oversight of state budgets and appropriations but is not the direct governing body for financial audits.

* C. Taxpayers: While transparency is important, material weaknesses are not directly reported to taxpayers. They may be disclosed in public audit reports, but taxpayers are not the primary audience.

* D. Local media: Material weaknesses are not formally reported to the media; their disclosure depends on the entity's public reporting processes.

References and Documents:

* GAO Yellow Book (GAGAS): Requires auditors to report material weaknesses to those charged with governance.

* GASB (Governmental Accounting Standards Board): Emphasizes the importance of communicating significant audit findings to governing bodies.

* AICPA Audit Standards (AU-C 265): Requires auditors to communicate material weaknesses to management and those charged with governance.

- B. the U.S. Department of the Treasury

Answer: A

Explanation:

Federal agencies submit their budget requests to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which reviews, analyzes, and makes recommendations to the President. After OMB review, the final version of the President's Budget is submitted to Congress.

Other roles:

Treasury: Manages federal finances, not budget formulation.

GAO: Audits and provides oversight to Congress.

Congress: Receives and authorizes the budget but does not initially review agency requests.
