NEW QUESTION # 45

Which of the 9 principles of Agile Leadership is demonstrated by a leader who empowers others and encourages shared ownership and accountability across all levels of the organization?

- A. Emotion is a foundation for enhanced creativity and innovation

- B. People require meaning and purpose to make work fulfilling
- C. Organizations improve through effective feedback
- D. Leadership lives everywhere in the organization

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation (paraphrased from Agile Project Management guidance):

Agile leadership distributes authority and nurtures autonomy so that decisions can be made closest to the work. The principle that most clearly embodies empowerment, shared ownership, and accountability at every level is "Leadership lives everywhere in the organization." This principle encourages leaders to create the conditions for others to lead-clarifying intent, aligning on outcomes, and then trusting teams to own decisions within clear boundaries. It contrasts with command-and-control models by fostering psychological safety, inviting initiative, and rewarding collaborative problem-solving. While feedback (B), meaning and purpose (C), and healthy engagement with emotion (D) are all important, they are supporting principles. The scenario described-empowering others and spreading accountability-maps directly to leadership as a shared organizational capability, not a title. This accelerates learning, reduces decision latency, and enables adaptive responses to change-hallmarks of agile organizations.
