NEW QUESTION # 17
A user reports that the keyboard on their Mac needs replacement. They say about 10 keys on the right side of the keyboard are producing incorrect characters when pressed. What is the most likely explanation?

- A. Sticky Keys is active.
- B. Mouse Keys is active.
- C. Game Mode is active.
- D. The keyboard needs replacement.

Answer: D

Explanation:
When multiple keys (e.g., 10 on the right side) on a Mac keyboard consistently produce incorrect characters, it suggests a hardware issue rather than a software misconfiguration. Keyboards can fail due to physical damage, wear, or internal connection issues, leading to erratic behavior like wrong outputs.
* Option A (Game Mode) is a feature on iOS/iPadOS (not macOS as of 2025) and doesn't affect keyboard input mapping.
* Option B (Mouse Keys) enables numeric keypad keys to control the pointer but doesn't remap standard keys to produce incorrect characters.
* Option D (Sticky Keys) modifies key press behavior for accessibility (e.g., holding modifiers), but it doesn't cause keys to output wrong characters.
* Option C (keyboard replacement) aligns with a hardware fault, especially given the localized nature of the issue (right side). Basic troubleshooting (e.g., restarting, checking language settings) should be ruled out first, but the description points to a physical defect.See Apple's "If your Mac keyboard isn't working" (support.apple.com/HT204540) for hardware troubleshooting steps.
