ASIS Physical Security Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q128-Q133):

NEW QUESTION # 128

Successful security design recognizes technological developments and integrates:

- A. Architectural aspects, security systems, and operational factors
- B. Operational factors, organizational needs, and the human element
- C. Threats, operational factors, and likelihood of occurrence
- D. Adversary sequence diagrams, system specifications, and work breakdown structure

Answer: B

Explanation:

Effective security design must balance technological advances with operational realities, organizational priorities, and human behavior. This holistic approach ensures the system is usable, sustainable, and aligned with company goals.

A (Adversary diagrams) and B (Threats and likelihood) are analytical tools, not integration principles.

D omits the critical "human element," which affects usability and compliance.

NEW QUESTION # 129

What incorporate a detection system, which can eliminate concerns over water damage and false activation of the system?

- A. Pre-action system
- B. Post-action system
- C. Exposure
- D. Discovery system

Answer: A

Explanation:

Pre-action sprinkler systems are designed to prevent accidental water discharge. These systems include a detection component (such as smoke or heat detectors) that must activate before the water enters the pipes.

They are often used in areas where water damage would be catastrophic (e.g., data centers, museums).

Discovery system (A), Exposure (B), and Post-action system (C) are not standard terms in fire suppression.

"Post-action system" is incorrect; the correct terminology is "pre-action system." References:

NEW QUESTION # 130

A series of menus from which a person can access virtually any type of textual information is known as:

- A. Gophers
- B. Consortium
- C. Symantec
- D. Hyper-text based tool

Answer: A

Explanation:

Gopher is a hypertext-based information retrieval tool that predates the World Wide Web. It uses a series of text-based menus to allow users to navigate and access various types of textual information hosted on servers.

It was one of the first attempts at organizing and accessing online information in a user-friendly way.

Consortium (A) refers to a group or association, not a technology.

Hyper-text based tool (B) is descriptive but not the specific name of the system.

Symantec (C) is a cybersecurity software company, unrelated to menu-based text access systems.

NEW QUESTION # 131

Administrative workload is substantially decreased when which service is employed?

- A. Union
- B. Proprietary
- C. Contract
- D. Security

Answer: C

Explanation:

When an organization employs contract security services, the administrative workload related to hiring, payroll, training, and scheduling shifts to the service provider. This is a significant benefit for companies looking to reduce internal administrative burdens and focus on core operations.

Proprietary (C) systems require the organization to manage all aspects of employment.

Union (A) and Security (B) are unrelated to the comparison of administrative workload between contract and proprietary services.

NEW QUESTION # 132

Nechaev defined _____ as in which a man who is already lost, has broken all links with society and the world of civilization, with its laws and conventions, with its social etiquette and its moral code.

- A. Revolution
- B. Consolation
- C. Transformation
- D. Terrorism

Answer: D

Explanation:

Sergey Nechaev, a 19th-century Russian revolutionary, provided an extreme ideological foundation for terrorism. His definition emphasized a total disconnection from moral and social norms, promoting violence as a revolutionary tool. His "Catechism of a Revolutionary" laid the groundwork for early anarchist-terrorist thinking.
