NEW QUESTION # 69

What are elements A, B, and C?

(A diagram showing Improve Data Consistency and Reduction of Maintenance Costs at the top, connected to Single System of Record for each Data Element and Common Use of Applications.) Which of the following best describes this diagram?

- A. Principles and the goals they realize.
- B. Goals and the assigned values.
- C. Drivers and the associated outcomes.
- D. Requirements and the meanings assigned.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation:

The diagram presents Principles and Goals, which are core elements in ArchiMate's Motivation Layer. In ArchiMate 3.2, principles represent fundamental guidelines or constraints that influence architecture, while goals represent intended outcomes of an enterprise transformation.

Understanding the Diagram:

- * Improve Data Consistency and Reduction of Maintenance Costs are goals- they describe desirable future states of the enterprise.
- * Single System of Record for each Data Element and Common Use of Applications are principles- they guide decision-making and architecture choices to help achieve the goals.
- * The relationships between these elements indicate that the principles contribute to realizing the goals.

Analysis of Answer Choices:

#A. Principles and the goals they realize. ##Correct Answer

- * Principles define fundamental rules that guide decision-making (e.g., Single System of Record for each Data Element).
- * Goals represent desired business outcomes (e.g., Improve Data Consistency).
- * ArchiMate 3.2 Specification, Section 6.2.2, defines how principles guide enterprise architecture to realize goals.

#B. Requirements and the meanings assigned. ##Incorrect

* Requirements describe what needs to be implemented, whereas this diagram represents high-level principles and goals, not specific implementation needs.

* ArchiMate 3.2 Specification, Section 6.2.3, differentiates requirements from principles and goals.

#C. Goals and the assigned values. ##Incorrect

- * While the diagram includes goals, the lower elements are not values but principles that help achieve the goals.
- * Values in ArchiMate typically represent high-level business benefits rather than architectural guidelines.

#D. Drivers and the associated outcomes. ##Incorrect

- * Drivers represent external forces or motivations (e.g., market trends, customer demands).
- * This diagram does not include external drivers; it focuses on principles guiding internal changes.

#A. Principles and the goals they realize.

NEW QUESTION # 72

Consider the following diagram:

Which of the following correctly describes this diagram?

- A. The two business roles Travel Insurance Claim Analyst and Home Insurance Product Specialist are specializations of the business role Specialist
- B. The business role Specialist is an aggregation of the two business roles Travel Insurance Claim Analyst and Home Insurance Product Specialist.
- C. The two business roles Travel Insurance Claim Analyst and Home Insurance Product Specialist together realize the business role Specialist.
- D. The business role Specialist approves all claims handled by the two business roles Travel Insurance Claim Analyst and Home Insurance Product Specialist

Answer: A

Explanation:

Based on the ArchiMate 3 documents or objectives, the diagram uses a specialization relationship to indicate that the two business roles Travel Insurance Claim Analyst and Home Insurance Product Specialist are more specific versions of the business role Specialist. A specialization relationship is a type of structural relationship that indicates that an object is a specialization of another object. The notation for a specialization relationship is a solid line with an empty triangle at the end that points to the more general element.

NEW QUESTION # 73

Complete the sentence. The passive counterpart of the application component in the application layer is called a(n) ____.

- A. Application event
- B. Product
- C. Data object
- D. Meaning

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation: An Application Component is an active structure that represents software components performing behavior. Its passive counterpart is the Data Object, which represents structured information used or produced by applications.

Since Data Objects do not perform actions themselves but store, structure, or represent data, they are the correct counterpart to Application Components in the Application Layer.

This is clearly outlined in the ArchiMate 3.2 Specification, which states that Application Components act upon Data Objects.
