Amazon AWS Certified Developer Associate Exam (DVA-C02) Sample Questions (Q245-Q250):

NEW QUESTION # 245

A Developer has an application that can upload tens of thousands of objects per second to Amazon S3 in parallel within a single AWS account. As part of new requirements, data stored in S3 must use server side encryption with AWS KMS (SSE-KMS). After creating this change, performance of the application is slower.

Which of the following is MOST likely the cause of the application latency?

- A. The AWS KMS API calls limit is less than needed to achieve the desired performance.
- B. The client encryption of the objects is using a poor algorithm.
- C. Amazon S3 throttles the rate at which uploaded objects can be encrypted using Customer Master Keys.

- D. KMS requires that an alias be used to create an independent display name that can be mapped to a CMK.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 246

You have an environment that consists of a public subnet using Amazon VPC and 3 instances that are running in this subnet. These three instances can successfully communicate with other hosts on the Internet. You launch a fourth instance in the same subnet, using the same AMI and security group configuration you used for the others, but find that this instance cannot be accessed from the Internet.

What should you do to enable internet access?

- A. Deploy a NAT instance into the public subnet.
- B. Configure a publically routable IP Address In the host OS of the fourth instance.
- C. Assign an Elastic IP address to the fourth instance.
- D. Modify the routing table for the public subnet

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 247

What item operation allows the retrieval of multiple items from a DynamoDB table in a single API call?

- A. GetItemRange
- B. GetItem
- C. GetMultipleItems
- D. BatchGetItem

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 248

A developer tested an application locally and then deployed it to AWS Lambda.

While testing the application remotely the Lambda function fails with an access denied message How can this issue be addressed?

- A. Update the Lambda function's execution role to include the missing permissions
- B. Redeploy the Lambda function using an account with access to the AdministratorAccess policy
- C. Update the Lambda function's resource policy to include the missing permissions
- D. Include an IAM policy document at the root of the deployment package and redeploy the Lambda function.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 249

An application uses Amazon Kinesis Data Streams to ingest and process large streams of data records in real time. Amazon EC2 instances consume and process the data from the shards of the Kinesis data stream by using Amazon Kinesis Client Library (KCL). The application handles the failure scenarios and does not require standby workers. The application reports that a specific shard is receiving more data than expected. To adapt to the changes in the rate of data flow, the "hot" shard is resharded.

Assuming that the initial number of shards in the Kinesis data stream is 4, and after resharding the number of shards increased to 6, what is the maximum number of EC2 instances that can be deployed to process data from all the shards?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: B

Explanation:

Typically, when you use the KCL, you should ensure that the number of instances does not exceed the number of shards (except for failure standby purposes). Each shard is processed by exactly one KCL worker and has exactly one corresponding record processor, so you never need multiple instances to process one shard. However, one worker can process any number of shards, so it's fine if the number of shards exceeds the number of instances.
