NEW QUESTION # 186

You have a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server and has the DHCP Server role installed. Server1 contains the following single scope:

- Scope: 192.168.16.0
- Address pool: 192.168.16.1-192.168.16.254
- Subnet mask: 255.255.255.0
- Lease duration: 8 days

You have four testing devices that are configured with static IP addresses as shown in the following table.

Name	IP address
TestDevice1	192.168.16.242
TestDevice2	192.168.16.243
TestDevice3	192.168.16.244
TestDevice4	192.168.16.245

The test devices are turned on once a month.

You need to prevent Server1 from assigning the IP addresses allocated to the test devices to other devices when the test devices are offline. The solution must minimize administrative effort.

What should you do?

- A. Create a policy.
- B. Configure the Scope options.
- C. Create an exclusion range.
- D. Create reservations.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Since the devices are configured with static ip addresses which are defined on the network adapter of the devices, not by DHCP you should create an exclusion range which prevents the DHCP server to assign those IPs to other devices.

NEW QUESTION # 187

You are planning the deployment of DNS to a new network.

You have three internal DNS servers as shown in the following table.

Server2	Toronto	10.0.2.10	east.contoso.local
Server3	Seattle	10.0.3.10	west.contoso.local

The contoso.local zone contains zone delegations for east.contoso.local and west.contoso.local. All the DNS servers use root hints.

You need to ensure that all the DNS servers can resolve the names of all the internal namespaces and internet hosts.

Solution: On Server2 and Server3, you configure a conditional forwarder for contoso.local.

Does this meet the goal?

- A. Yes
- B. No
