Appian Senior Developer Sample Questions (Q44-Q49):

NEW QUESTION # 44

You're the administrator of your insurance company's case management system. You need to limit insurance agents to only those clients to which they have been assigned.

Which two statements must be true for one way to configure Record-Level security for the Customer record?

(Choose two.)

- A. Data sync should be enabled.
- B. Record-level security means agents must have permission to view the record type and permission to edit the records.
- C. A new record-level security rule should be created using the Users found in fields option to specify that if a user is found in the "assignedAgent" field (which is a type User), then they can see their cases.
- D. A condition should be added to the record-level security rule to specify which cases specifically named agents can access.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Creating a record-level security rule using the "Users found in fields" option ensures agents only see records assigned to them through the "assignedAgent" field.

Adding a condition to the rule further refines which records (cases) each agent can access, implementing precise record-level security.

NEW QUESTION # 45

Your client wants their customers to be able to schedule appointments directly from their website without going to an Appian user environment.

You need to build an embedded interface to be added to your client's web page. The style of the embedded interface should be consistent with the host web page.

Which three custom styling options can be configured in the Themes section of embedded interfaces? (Choose three.)

- A. Web font stylesheet URL
- B. Two or three column layout
- C. Page background color
- D. Asymmetrical layout
- E. Font Family

Answer: A,C,E

Explanation:

Page background color - You can customize the background color to match the host webpage's theme.

Font family - You can set the font family to ensure the embedded interface aligns with the client's branding.

Web font stylesheet URL - This allows the use of custom web fonts, further aligning the style with the host site.

NEW QUESTION # 46

You're creating a support case record type while working on a support case management system. You want to track support case status changes.

You want to use record events to track this information.

Which record data source type is the most appropriate for you to use?

- A. Database source with data sync enabled
- B. Web service without data sync enabled
- C. Process Model source with data sync enabled

Answer: A

Explanation:

A database source with data sync enabled is required to use record events for tracking support case status changes, as Appian record events are only supported for synced record types with a database as the data source.

NEW QUESTION # 47

You're developing a case management application. Currently, users can view a list of all cases designed using a `forEach()` loop from a record query. Users can navigate to the case summary page which shows the case details in a two (2) column layout. Users are also able to update the case details.

During the last round of UAT testing, users reported that the tool was not intuitive to use.

Match each feedback comment to the suggested UI/UX improvements.

Note: Each UI/UX improvement will be used once, or not at all. To change your responses, you may deselect your response by clicking the blank space at the top of the selection list.

Answer:

NEW QUESTION # 48

You need to add test cases to an existing expression rule in the system. Expression rule gives a complex data type value as an output result.

The test case should pass only when a field in the resultant data matches with a specific value mentioned.

How should you configure the test case assertion?

- A. Test output matches the asserted output.
- B. Test completes without errors.
- C. Assertion expression evaluates to True.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Configuring the test case assertion so that the assertion expression evaluates to True allows you to specifically check whether the desired field in the complex data type result matches the required value.
