NEW QUESTION # 426

A friend tells you he is being charged $100 a month to host his WordPress website, and you tell him you can move it to AWS for him and he will only pay a fraction of that, which makes him very happy. He then tells you he is being charged $50 a month for the domain, which is registered with the same people that set it up, and he asks if it's possible to move that to AWS as well. You tell him you aren't sure, but will look into it. Which of the following statements is true in regards to transferring domain names to AWS?

- A. You can transfer existing domains via AWS Import/Export.
- B. You can transfer existing domains into Amazon Route 53's management.
- C. You can transfer existing domains via AWS Direct Connect.
- D. You can't transfer existing domains to AWS.

Answer: B

Explanation:

With Amazon Route 53, you can create and manage your public DNS records with the AWS Management Console or with an easy-to-use API. If you need a domain name, you can find an available name and register it using Amazon Route 53. You can also transfer existing domains into Amazon Route 53's management.

- C. security groups and 2-Factor authentication
- D. security groups and biometric authentication

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 429

A company has a production workload that is spread across different AWS accounts in various AWS Regions.

The company uses AWS Cost Explorer to continuously monitor costs and usage. The company wants to receive notifications when the cost and usage spending of the workload is unusual.

Which combination of steps will meet these requirements? (Select TWO.)

- A. Create a report and send email messages to notify the company on a weekly basis.
- B. In the AWS accounts where the production workload is running, create a linked account budget by using Cost Explorer in the AWS Cost Management console
- C. Create a subscription with the required threshold and notify the company by using weekly summaries.
- D. In ys AWS accounts where the production workload is running, create a linked account monitor by using AWS Cost Anomaly Detection in the AWS Cost Management console
- E. In the AWS accounts where the production workload is running, create a Cost and Usage Report by using Cost Anomaly Detection in the AWS Cost Management console.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Explanation

AWS Cost Anomaly Detection allows you to create monitors that track the cost and usage of your AWS resources and alert you when there is an unusual spending pattern. You can create monitors based on different dimensions, such as AWS services, accounts, tags, or cost categories. You can also create alert subscriptions that notify you by email or Amazon SNS when an anomaly is detected. You can specify the threshold and frequency of the alerts, and choose to receive weekly summaries of your anomalies.

NEW QUESTION # 430

A company uses an Amazon EC2 Auto Scaling group to host an API. The EC2 instances are in a target group that is associated with an Application Load Balancer (ALB). The company stores data in an Amazon Aurora PostgreSQL database.

The API has a weekly maintenance window. The company must ensure that the API returns a static maintenance response during the weekly maintenance window.

Which solution will meet this requirement with the LEAST operational overhead?

- A. Create an Amazon Simple Queue Service (Amazon SQS) queue. Subscribe the EC2 instances to the queue. Publish a message to the queue when the maintenance window starts. Configure the API to return a maintenance message if the instances receive a maintenance start message from the queue. Publish another message to the queue when the maintenance window is finished to restore normal operation.
- B. Create a table in Aurora PostgreSQL that has fields to contain keys and values. Create a key for a maintenance flag. Set the flag when the maintenance window starts. Configure the API to query the table for the maintenance flag and to return a maintenance response if the flag is set. Reset the flag when the maintenance window is finished.

- C. Create an Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) topic. Subscribe the EC2 instances to the topic. Publish a message to the topic when the maintenance window starts. Configure the API to return a maintenance response if the instances receive the maintenance start message from the topic. Publish another message to the topic when the maintenance window finishes to restore normal operation.
- D. Create a listener rule on the ALB to return a maintenance response when the path on a request matches a wildcard. Set the rule priority to one. Perform the maintenance. When the maintenance window is finished, delete the listener rule.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Creating a listener rule on the Application Load Balancer (ALB) to return a maintenance response during the maintenance window is the most straightforward solution with the least operational overhead. The rule can be configured to match all incoming requests and return a custom response, and it can be easily removed once maintenance is complete.

Option A (Aurora table flag): This adds unnecessary complexity for a temporary maintenance response.

Option B and D (SQS or SNS): These options introduce more components than needed for a simple maintenance message.
