regsvr32 msvc100.dll

Why These Are the Correct Choices (Exam Logic)

Why the COPY command is first

- * The error explicitly states MSVCP100.dll is missing
- * Other users can run the app # the DLL exists on another system
- * The fastest, least disruptive fix (preferred by CompTIA) is to:
- * Copy the known-good DLL into C:\Windows\System32
- * The /v switch verifies the copy, and /y suppresses prompts - both are enterprise-safe defaults This restores the missing runtime dependency immediately.

Why REGSVR32 is second

- * After copying a DLL, Windows may not recognize or properly load it
- * regsvr32 registers the DLL with the operating system
- * This ensures:
- * The Testing application can properly call the runtime library
- * The fix persists after reboot
