Network Appliance NetApp Certified AI Expert Exam Sample Questions (Q34-Q39):

NEW QUESTION # 34

An organization wants to provide its data science team with a secure, on-demand method for using a powerful generative AI model with their private, sensitive corporate data. The solution must ensure that the private data is never exposed to the public internet or the public LLM API endpoint.

The architect is designing a solution using BlueXP.

Which two components are essential for building this secure solution? (Choose 2.)

- A. A policy in BlueXP classification to copy all sensitive data to a public cloud bucket for easier access.
- B. A direct VPN connection from each data scientist's laptop to the public LLM provider.
- C. The BlueXP GenAI Toolkit, which acts as a proxy to intercept user prompts and enrich them with data from a local vector database.
- D. A private vector database hosted on an on-premises NetApp ONTAP system to store embeddings of the sensitive corporate data.
- E. A BlueXP Connector deployed in a public subnet with a public IP address to allow access to the LLM.

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 35

The company's compliance officer mandates that all raw simulation data in the StorageGRID data lake must be protected from modification or deletion for a period of seven years. Which two StorageGRID features should be implemented to meet this strict, long-term data immutability requirement? (Choose 2.)

- A. Create a new S3 bucket with Object Lock enabled in Compliance mode.
- B. Encrypt all objects in the bucket using server-side encryption (SSE).
- C. Use NetApp SnapMirror to replicate the data to a second StorageGRID system.
- D. Configure an Information Lifecycle Management (ILM) rule that applies to the bucket and sets a retention period of seven years.
- E. Enable Autonomous Ransomware Protection (ARP) on the StorageGRID system.

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 36

An organization's AI platform team needs to provide two distinct tiers of storage for their data scientists on a single Kubernetes cluster:

1. 'gold-tier': Extremely low-latency storage for active model training, using an all-flash NetApp ASA system
2. 'bronze-tier': Cost-effective, high-capacity storage for data staging and archiving, using a NetApp StorageGRID system

How should the platform team configure NetApp Trident to meet these requirements? (Select all that apply.)

- A. Create a single StorageClass named 'multi-tier-storage' that references both backends.
- B. Create a single Trident backend that points to both the ASA and StorageGRID systems simultaneously.
- C. Create two separate Trident backend configurations, one for the ASA ('backend-asa.yaml') and one for StorageGRID ('backend-sgrid.yaml').
- D. Configure the 'bronze-tier' StorageClass to reference the StorageGRID backend.
- E. Create two distinct StorageClasses, 'gold-tier' and 'bronze-tier'.
- F. Configure the 'gold-tier' StorageClass to reference the ASA backend.

Answer: C,D,E,F

NEW QUESTION # 37

A data scientist on the team wants to run an experiment on a new vector indexing strategy. To do this, they need a temporary, writable copy of the main vector database. They use the NetApp DataOps Toolkit for Python to automate this process.

The following script is executed:

from netapp_dataops.k8s import clone_pvc clone_pvc(
    source_pvc_name="prod-vector-db-pvc", new_pvc_name="exp-indexing-clone", namespace="ds-prod"

Assuming the source PVC exists and the user has correct permissions, what is the primary benefit of using this method?

- A. It automatically migrates the data from the AFF A-Series to the StorageGRID system for the experiment.
- B. It creates a read-only Snapshot, ensuring the integrity of the experimental data.
- C. It uses NetApp FlexClone technology to create a near-instantaneous, space-efficient writable copy of the volume, accelerating the experimental workflow.
- D. It creates a full physical copy of the data, providing the best performance isolation.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 38

A team has deployed a Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) system to answer customer queries. Recently, users have complained that the answers provided by the chatbot are outdated and do not reflect the latest product updates. An architect investigates and finds the following status log from the RAG pipeline's data ingestion monitor.

Timestamp: 2025-07-11T14:00:00Z

System: RAG Pipeline Monitor

Status: WARNING

Message: Vector DB freshness check failed.

Source data appears stale.

Vector_DB_Last_Update: 2025-06-10T08:00:00Z

Knowledge_Base_Last_Modified: 2025-07-11T13:15:00Z

Data_Sync_Service: BlueXP copy and sync

Sync_Job_Status: Succeeded

Based on the log, what is the most likely cause of the outdated answers?

- A. The LLM needs to be fine-tuned with the new product information.
- B. The BlueXP copy and sync service is failing to copy data to the staging area.
- C. The knowledge base itself has not been updated with the latest product information.

- D. The process that converts staged documents into vectors and updates the vector database is not running.

Answer: D
