NEW QUESTION # 172

Rachel was reviewing the various tiers of disaster recovery so as to implement them in her startup. One particular tier attracted her attention, and she wanted to put it into effect in her startup. This specific disaster recovery tier backed up data over a WAN connection. Which disaster recovery tier did Rachel want to implement in her startup?

- A. Tier 0
- B. Tier 6
- C. Tier 3
- D. Tier 5

Answer: D

Explanation:

Tier 5 in the disaster recovery tier model (e.g., SHARE or IBM models) typically involves backing up data over a Wide Area Network (WAN) to a remote site, providing offsite redundancy with minimal data loss.

* Option B (Tier 3): Basic offsite backup, often tape-based, not WAN-specific.

* Option C (Tier 0): No backup, not applicable.

* Option D (Tier 6): Advanced, often with zero data loss, beyond simple WAN backup.

* "Tier 5 utilizes WAN connections for remote data backups, enhancing resilience with offsite replication and moderate RPO" (Module: Disaster Recovery Tiers, Section: Tier Definitions).

NEW QUESTION # 173

Timothy works as a network administrator in a multinational organization. He decides to implement a dedicated network for sharing storage resources. He uses a _____ as it separates the storage units from the servers and the user network.

- A. SCSI
- B. SAS
- C. NAS
- D. SAN

Answer: D

Explanation:

A Storage Area Network (SAN) is a dedicated high-speed network that separates storage devices from servers and user networks, providing centralized block-level storage access.

* Option A (NAS): Network Attached Storage uses the user network, not a dedicated one.

* Option B (SCSI): Small Computer System Interface, a protocol, not a network (likely a typo for SAS).

* Option D (SAS): Serial Attached SCSI, a drive interface, not a network.

* "SANs provide a dedicated storage network, isolating storage from server and user traffic for efficiency and security" (Module: Storage Technologies, Section: SAN Overview).
