Epic EDI101 Bridges Interfaces Exam Questions and Answers 2024

Does every HL7 message have to be encoded with the characters 1A- & ? - answer ✓✓ No, the encoding characters can be any printable character.

Imagine that your message begins with MSH|^A&1. How would you encode the string "Th result is positive & has a value of 2.7 x 10A3."? - answer ✓✓ The result is positive \T\ has a value of 2.7 x 10\5\3.

Why is the NTE segment special? - answer ✓✓ Context; its meaning depends on the segment it follows

What is the difference between receiving an empty field |I and the delete sequence ? - answer ✓✓ An empty field is ignored by the interface, whereas the delete character will delete information from the database, assuming the field in question supports the delete character.

Aside from HL7 Version 2, name two other standards supported in Bridges? - answer ✓✓ X12, FHIR, NCPDP, DICOM, and Direct.

What is Bridges? - answer ✓✓ Epic's interfacing messages along with the application. It consists of both the interface infrastructure to build, send, receive, and file messages along with the tools and utilities to maintain those interfaces

What are stored in the Event Queue, Data Queue, and Control Queue? - answer ✓✓ The Event Queue contains the information needed to build a message. Usually this is a patient ID, an encounter DAT, and the type of message to be built, amongst other information.

The Data Queue contains the text of HL7 messages and additional metadata.

The Control Queue is a to-do list of message numbers to send or file.

Are messages ever manually deleted from the Data Queue? - answer ✓✓ No, never. They are purged only by an automated purge job.

What are two ways that interface messages are sent and received? - answer ✓✓ TCP/IP with an interface engine is the most common communication method. Interconnect is used for HTTPS or other communication outside your local network.

EPIC CEE: Bridges Interfaces Application Essentials Exam (2026 Version) Sample Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19

Many interfaces that file patient information are required by default to use Patient Validation and may not start without documenting why the interface should skip validation.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

Because of the high risk associated with misidentifying patients, Epic embeds "hard stops" in the Bridges configuration. For many standard interface types, the system requires Patient Validation to be active. If an organization decides to disable it, the administrator must provide a formal justification within the system before the interface is permitted to start.

NEW QUESTION # 20

An ID Type can be reused for multiple Chronicles master files.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Epic's Identity framework, an ID Type is explicitly linked to a single Chronicles master file (e.g., EPT for patients, SER for providers). This one-to-one relationship ensures that the system knows exactly which master file to search when an ID of that type is received in a message. You cannot use a single ID Type definition to identify both a patient and a provider.

NEW QUESTION # 21

Which of the following places in Bridges can you specify a single setting for a profile variable that will apply to all interfaces that use that profile variable?

- A. Interface System Defaults
- B. Interface Shared Definitions
- C. Background Monitor
- D. Profile Variable Master Table

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Interface System Defaults activity is the highest level of the configuration hierarchy. Settings defined here serve as the global "catch-all." If a profile variable is defined in System Defaults and not overridden at the Specification or individual Interface level, that single setting applies across the entire Epic environment for all relevant interfaces.

NEW QUESTION # 22

If you don't want to use Identity, a Translation Table can be used instead to map patient IDs.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Epic, Identity is the required framework for mapping record-level identifiers, especially for patients.

Translation Tables are intended for mapping "Category Lists" (like Gender, Race, or Marital Status) where there are a limited number of static values. Because patient IDs are unique to every record and number in the millions, they cannot be managed via a simple translation table.

NEW QUESTION # 23

Which of the following tools can be used to find messages for a given patient within a specified time range?
(SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Message Search
- B. Error Log Report
- C. Interface Messages
- D. Message Companion

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Both Message Search and the Message Companion are patient-centric tools. Message Search allows for broad criteria including patient identifiers and timestamps across various interfaces. The Message Companion is a specialized tool often accessed directly from patient clinical records, allowing users to see all incoming and outgoing messages specifically for that patient within a defined timeframe.
