CompTIA Data+ Exam (2025) Sample Questions (Q52-Q57):

NEW QUESTION # 52

A data analyst wants to understand several datasets at the variable level. Which of the following should the analyst consult to find this information?

- A. Data lineage
- B. Data versioning
- C. Data flow diagram
- D. Data dictionary

Answer: D

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Data Concepts and Environments domain, focusing on documentation for understanding datasets. The analyst needs variable-level details (e.g., field definitions), which points to a specific type of documentation.

* Data lineage (Option A): Data lineage tracks data flow and transformations, not variable definitions.

* Data dictionary (Option B): A data dictionary provides detailed information about variables (e.g., name, type, description), which is exactly what the analyst needs.

* Data flow diagram (Option C): A data flow diagram shows data movement, not variable-level details.

* Data versioning (Option D): Data versioning tracks changes to datasets, not variable definitions.

The DA0-002 Data Concepts and Environments domain includes understanding "data schemas and dimensions," and a data dictionary is the primary tool for variable-level information.

NEW QUESTION # 53

A data analyst needs to create a report that anticipates the number of calls received daily. Which of the following is the best statistical method to use?

- A. Descriptive
- B. Inferential
- C. Predictive
- D. Diagnostic

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Analysis domain, focusing on statistical methods for forecasting. The task is to anticipate (predict) the number of daily calls, which involves looking into the future.

* Predictive (Option A): Predictive analytics uses historical data to forecast future outcomes (e.g., number of calls), which matches the requirement.

* Diagnostic (Option B): Diagnostic analytics identifies causes and patterns in historical data, not future predictions.

* Inferential (Option C): Inferential statistics make generalizations about a population, not specific forecasts.

* Descriptive (Option D): Descriptive analytics summarizes past data, not suitable for anticipating future values.

The DA0-002 Data Analysis domain includes "applying the appropriate descriptive statistical methods," and predictive analytics is the best method for forecasting future call volumes.

NEW QUESTION # 54

Which of the following file types separates data using a delimiter?

- A. XML
- B. CSV
- C. JSON
- D. HTML

Answer: B

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Concepts and Environments domain, focusing on understanding file formats and their structures. The task is to identify a file type that uses delimiters to separate data.

* XML (Option A): XML uses tags to structure data, not delimiters.

* HTML (Option B): HTML is a markup language for web pages, not a data file format using delimiters.

* JSON (Option C): JSON uses key-value pairs and nested structures, not delimiters like commas.

* CSV (Option D): CSV (Comma-Separated Values) uses delimiters (typically commas) to separate data fields, making it the correct choice.

The DA0-002 Data Concepts and Environments domain includes understanding "data schemas and dimensions," such as file formats like CSV that use delimiters.

NEW QUESTION # 55

A data analyst has a dashboard that shows weekly data. For the past few weeks, the data has not updated.

Which of the following is the best way to confirm that the data is current?

- A. Setting up a monitoring alert that checks on data freshness
- B. Validating that the proper data sources are being used
- C. Working with a database administrator on query optimization
- D. Removing all filters from the dashboard

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 56

A company wants to limit an employee's access to a production environment. Which of the following access control practices is the best to implement?

- A. Mandatory
- B. Attribute-based
- C. Time-based
- D. Role-based

Answer: D

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Governance domain, focusing on access control practices for data security.

The task is to limit an employee's access to a production environment, requiring a structured approach.

* Mandatory (Option A): Mandatory access control (MAC) uses strict, system-enforced rules (e.g., military settings), but it's overly rigid for most companies.

* Time-based (Option B): Time-based access limits access to specific times, which doesn't address general production environment access.

* Attribute-based (Option C): Attribute-based access control (ABAC) uses attributes (e.g., department, location), but it's complex and not the simplest solution.

* Role-based (Option D): Role-based access control (RBAC) assigns permissions based on the employee's role, ensuring they only access what's needed for their job, making it the best practice for limiting production access.

The DA0-002 Data Governance domain includes "data privacy concepts," and role-based access control is a widely adopted practice for limiting access in production environments.
