Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement 2023 Implementation Professional - Delta Sample Questions (Q151-Q156):

NEW QUESTION # 151
Which option represents the lowest level of access control in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement?

- A. Security policies
- B. Privileges
- C. Duty roles
- D. Job roles

Answer: B

Explanation:
Privileges represent the lowest level of access control in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement. They are specific permissions assigned to users within duty roles. Privileges determine the level of access to individual functions, such as creating, updating, or deleting specific records or documents.

NEW QUESTION # 152
What activities are typically included in the execution phase of the application implementation lifecycle?

- A. Tracking project milestones, managing risks, and resolving issues or conflicts
- B. Data migration, integration, customization, and testing
- C. Defining the project scope, identifying stakeholders, and setting goals and objectives
- D. Completing the implementation, transitioning to the support team, and conducting a project review

Answer: B

Explanation:
The execution phase of the application implementation lifecycle involves the actual building and configuration of the application based on the project plan and requirements. It includes activities such as data migration, where existing data is transferred to the new system; integration, where the application is connected to other systems or modules; customization, where specific requirements are implemented; and testing to ensure that the application functions as expected. This phase is where the bulk of the development work takes place.

NEW QUESTION # 153
What is the purpose of defining supplier portal user roles in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement?

- A. To enable suppliers to view and update their profile information
- B. To restrict access to sensitive supplier information
- C. All of the above
- D. To assign different privileges and responsibilities to different supplier users

Answer: C

Explanation:
Defining supplier portal user roles in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement serves multiple purposes. Firstly, it helps in restricting access to sensitive supplier information to ensure data security. Secondly, it enables suppliers to view and update their profile information, such as contact details or banking information. Lastly, by assigning different privileges and responsibilities to different supplier users, the organization can ensure that the right users have appropriate access to perform their tasks efficiently.

NEW QUESTION # 154
Which three common procurement business objects can be managed on an ongoing basis while the application is in use?

- A. Corporate Cards
- B. Units of Measure
- C. Hazard Classes
- D. Payment Terms
- E. Item Types

NEW QUESTION # 155
What are the key features of Supplier Qualification Management (SQM) in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement?

- A. Supplier rating and ranking
- B. Payment processing automation
- C. Inventory control and management
- D. Purchase order management

Answer: A

Explanation:
One of the key features of Supplier Qualification Management (SQM) in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement is supplier rating and ranking. SQM allows organizations to evaluate and score potential suppliers based on predefined qualification criteria. This rating and ranking system helps organizations prioritize and engage the most qualified suppliers, improving procurement efficiency and effectiveness. Features like purchase order management, payment processing automation, and inventory control are typically handled by other modules in the Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement suite.
