Salesforce Certified B2C Commerce Architect Sample Questions (Q60-Q65):

NEW QUESTION # 60
During a review of the most recent release notes, the Architect finds that Salesforce has deprecated an API that is used throughout the site. After reviewing the deprecated API usage in Business Manager, the Architect narrows down the usage of that API to a particular LINK integration cartridge. The cartridge was integrated when the site was first launched and is heavily customized for the Client.

What is the recommended way for the Architect to remove the deprecated API so the LINK integration continues to work without interruptions, and lowest level of effort'

- A. The Architect does not need to do anything at this time, the API will continue to work with no issues for the foreseeable future.
- B. The Architect should contact the company that created the LINK cartridge to fix the issue and provide the client with updated code.
- C. The Architect should check to see If the LINK cartridge has been updated already, integrate It, apply the customisations, and teat thoroughly.
- D. The Architect should update all the deprecated API cats in the already integrated LINK cartridge and test thoroughly.

Answer: C

Explanation:
When facing a deprecated API that is used in a LINK integration cartridge, the recommended approach is to check for an updated version of the cartridge that may have replaced the deprecated API with a supported one.
If an update is available:
* Integrate the updated cartridge into the site, ensuring compatibility with the current site configuration.
* Re-apply customizations that were made to the original cartridge to maintain functional consistency.
* Thorough testing should be conducted to ensure that the integration works seamlessly without causing disruptions in the site's functionality.
This approach minimizes effort by leveraging updates provided by the cartridge vendor while ensuring the site remains functional and compliant with current API standards.

NEW QUESTION # 63
The Client currently manages Customers, Inventory, and Product Information with dedicated backend systems as shown In the Systems Diagram below. There is also an external Email Marketing System (EMS) in place. The EMS needs order data to email recommendations to customers using an existing email campaign. These recommendations should be to only send for products that are in stock. The EMS has no access to the backend systems so this data should come from the Salesforce B2C Commerce site.

Which relationships should be added to the Systems Diagram to complete it and fulfill the chant requirements necessary for the email campaign?

- A. Order andInventory should be exported from Production. Products should be exported from Staging. Customers should be exported from the external Customer Management System.
- B. Order and Customer data should be exported from Production. Product and Inventory data should be exported from Staging.
- C. Order, Customer, and Product data should be exported from Staging. Inventory data should be exported from Production.
- D. Order, Customer, and Inventory data should be exported from Production. Product data should be exported from staging.

Answer: B

Explanation:
In the given scenario, where the Email Marketing System (EMS) requires order data to send product recommendations based on stock availability, it is crucial that the most up-to-date and relevant data is used. Here's why the chosen data sources are appropriate:
Order and Customer Data from Production: Since order and customer interactions occur in real-time, exporting this data from the Production environment ensures that the most current information is used for the email marketing campaigns. This accuracy is vital for personalization and timeliness of the communications sent to customers.
Product and Inventory Data from Staging: Given that the staging environment is typically one step behind production and is used for testing before changes go live, it provides a stable dataset that reflects what is currently live without the risk of including any unvetted changes. This setup is suitable for inventory and product data, which are less susceptible to minute-by-minute changes compared to order data and can be pre-validated before use in marketing efforts.
This configuration helps ensure that the EMS has access to reliable data reflecting current stock levels and product details, which is essential for crafting accurate marketing messages based on product availability.

NEW QUESTION # 64
The development team is building a complex LINK cartridge for a hosted checkout solution. The provider s database is used as a single source of truth, but the information in the Basket on B2C Commerce side needs to be synchronized. This is implemented asynchronously the back end when the customers interact will the hosted checkout page and change their shipping/biding details.
As an Architect you have to advise the development team with how to implement the logging to ensure that there will be a mechanism available to allow troubleshooting in the case something goes wrong on production.
Which solution should the Architect suggest?

- A. Get logger for cartridge-specific category. Report Info level message for the back-end asynchronous communication between both systems. Report all errors at error level message.
- B. Report debug level message for the back-end asynchronous communication between both systems.
  Report al errors at error-level message.
- C. Report info level message for the back-end asynchronous communication between both systems Report all errors at error level message.
