Adobe Experience Manager Architect Master Sample Questions (Q28-Q33):

NEW QUESTION # 28

A website built on AEM Sites displays the company's stock price in the footer of all pages. The stock data is retrieved from a third party REST service using two-way SSL and rendered in an AEM component using HTL. During performance testing in the last development sprint it becomes apparent that the third party service sometimes takes up to 30 seconds to respond, which degrades the overall site performance.

How should an Architect address this issue?

- A. Add a 5 second timeout to the REST call
- B. Load the stock data component asynchronously
- C. Call the REST service directly from the browser
- D. Temporarily remove the component from all content

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 29

Refer to the exhibit.

A customer has SSO on its AEM Author environment using Adobe IMS, which is integrated with the customer's IDP using SAML. The customer plans to roll out a new secured website on AEM where SSO authentication is required for end users. The end user accounts are also managed in the customer's existing IDP.

How should the Architect set up the authentication for the website?

- A. Integrate AEM Publisher using OAuth with Adobe IMS
- B. Set up CUG and use User Synchronisation from Author to Publisher
- C. Integrate AEM Publisher using SAML with Adobe IMS

- D. Integrate AEM Publisher using SAML directly with the IDP

Answer: D

Explanation:

SAML is a common and standard SSO handler that allows a user to access multiple systems after providing authentication credentials once. AEM ships with a SAML 2.0 Authentication Handler that supports signing and encryption of messages, automatic creation of users, and synching groups to existing ones in AEM3. By integrating AEM Publisher using SAML directly with the IDP, the Architect can leverage the existing user accounts and authentication mechanism for the end users of the secured website.

NEW QUESTION # 30

After building an AEMaaCS website, it was found that non-cached secured static content will put too much load on the servers. How can this secured static content be cached without creating a security concern?

- A. Cache the secured content on the CDN and return "Cache-Control: private" on the HTTP header
- B. Cache the secured content on the dispatcher using AuthChecker module
- C. Cache the secured content on the CDN using AuthChecker module
- D. Cache the secured content on the dispatcher and return "Cache-Control: private" on the HTTP header

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 31

A customer wants to simplify and automate publishing press pages and defines the following flows:

□ What should the Architect recommend?

- A. Configure MSM with the "Activate on Blueprint activation" option
- B. Create a custom workflow
- C. Implement a Sling event listener that triggers on page creation
- D. Advise the customer to use Launches

Answer: D

Explanation:

Advise the customer to use Launches . According to Adobe Experience Manager documentation¹, launches in AEM Sites provide a way to create, author, and review web site content for future release. Launches can also be synchronized with the production web site and activated at a scheduled time¹

NEW QUESTION # 32

A client is using AEM and wants to make sure they are managing their configurations correctly. Refer to the following requirements: The client has multiple brands that they will be hosting on a single AEM implementation The client wants to reuse as much between brands as possible Each brand needs to be able to override the default values for items like contact us information The client plans to support multiple languages in multiple regions for each brand Each brand/language/region combination will have its own set of content approvers used as part of a custom workflow Which approach should an Architect recommend to manage the client's configurations for AEM?

- A. Use OSGi Configuration to handle configuration overrides by brand. Create a new workflow for each brand/language/region combination for content approval.
- B. Use the OOTB Configuration Browser to set configuration defaults and approval group by brand/language/region combination.
- C. Use Context-aware configurations to manage configuration overrides and approval group by brand/language/region combination.
- D. Use OSGi to manage approval group and provide default contact us information by runmode.

Answer: C

Explanation:

"using Context-aware configurations can allow managing configuration overrides and approval group by brand/language/region combination using content policies".
