- B. Internal order
- C. Claim
- D. Network activity

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 80
What business transactions can be used with Project-Oriented Procurement (ProMan)? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question

- A. Generate delivery
- B. Confirm production order
- C. Generate purchase requisition
- D. Cancel goods issue
- E. Stock transfer posting

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:
Project-Oriented Procurement (ProMan) supports various business transactions that are related to project procurement. Some of these transactions are:
Stock transfer posting: You can use this transaction to transfer project stock from one storage location to another within the same plant or between different plants.
Generate purchase requisition: You can use this transaction to create a purchase requisition for a material or service that is required for a project.

Cancel goods issue: You can use this transaction to reverse a goods issue posting for a material that was issued from project stock.

NEW QUESTION # 81
Your customer's projects are subject to recurring changes of date. The assembly activity has an earliest start date of February 10 and lasts until February 20. The customer wants to assign a material component so that this will be in stock 5 days in advance. Note: Every day is a working day. What do you recommend to set up the requirement date for the component ?

- A. Set up the requirement date aligned with the activity finish date and an offset of 15 days.
- B. Set up the requirement date manually as February 5.
- C. Set up the requirement date aligned with the activity start date and a negative offset of 5 days
- D. Set up the requirement date aligned with the activity start date and an offset of 5 days

Answer: C

Explanation:
To set up the requirement date for the component so that it will be in stock 5 days in advance of the assembly activity, you should set up the requirement date aligned with the activity start date and a negative offset of 5 days. The requirement date is the date on which a material component is required for an activity. The offset is a value that shifts the requirement date forward or backward from the activity start or finish date. A negative offset means that the requirement date is earlier than the activity date. Which of the following is visible in the project planning board? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question

- A. Project-relevant purchase orders
- B. Capacity requirements
- C. Production orders assigned to WBS elements
- D. Maintenance orders assigned to an activity

Answer: B,D

Explanation:
The project planning board is a graphical tool that allows you to plan and monitor projects in a Gantt chart view. You can use the project planning board to display capacity requirements and maintenance orders that are related to project activities. You can also display other objects such as WBS elements, networks, activities, milestones, production orders, sales orders, purchase orders, and so on.
