UiPath Automation Developer Associate v1 Exam Sample Questions (Q178-Q183):

NEW QUESTION # 178

A developer is designing a project where emails containing different employee IDs are sent to the process owner for each completed transaction. The process owner changes only once per year.

Which values should be designated as Orchestrator Queues versus Assets?

- A. Process Owner Email as a field in the Queue Item and Employee ID as an Orchestrator Asset.
- B. Process Owner Email as an Orchestrator Asset and Employee ID as an Orchestrator Asset.
- C. Process Owner Email as an Orchestrator Asset and Employee ID as a field in the Queue Item
- D. Process Owner Email as a field in the Queue Item and Employee ID as a field in the Queue Item

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Process Owner Email should be stored as an Orchestrator Asset because it changes infrequently (once per year). Assets are best suited for static or rarely changing values.

* Employee ID should be stored in the Queue Item because each transaction is unique and needs to process different employee data.

Orchestrator Assets store global variables, while Queues manage dynamic data that changes per transaction.

NEW QUESTION # 179

A developer is building a robot to validate that the birth date is in the correct format within the submitted forms. Which method or activity is best-suited to validate the format?

- A. Activity Replace
- B. Activity. Is Match
- C. String Method: Contains
- D. String Method: Equals

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Is Match activity is used to check if a string matches a given regular expression pattern. The regular expression pattern can be used to validate the format of a string, such as a date. In this case, the developer wants to validate that the birth date is in the correct format, which is dd-MM-yyyy. The regular expression pattern for this format is "`\d{2}-\d{2}-\d{4}`", which means two digits, followed by a hyphen, followed by two digits, followed by a hyphen, followed by four digits. The Is Match activity will return True if the input string matches this pattern, and False otherwise. Therefore, the answer is D. Activity. Is Match. References: Is Match, Regular Expressions

NEW QUESTION # 180

A developer wants to invoke a workflow in Main.xaml called ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml. Data needs to be passed to and from the invoked workflow. What is the correct sequence of steps the developer needs to perform?

Instructions: Drag the Description found on the left and drop on the correct Step found on the right

Description	Step Sequence
Open the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file and create the arguments	Step 1
Pass the values of the arguments to/from the variables in the Main.xaml file	Step 2
Create the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file	Step 3
Invoke the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file in the Main.xaml file and click Import Arguments	Step 4

Answer:

Explanation:

Description	Step Sequence
Open the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file and create the arguments	Step 1
Pass the values of the arguments to/from the variables in the Main.xaml file	Step 2
Create the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file	Step 3
Invoke the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file in the Main.xaml file and click Import Arguments	Step 4

Explanation:

The correct sequence of steps the developer needs to perform is:

- * Step 1 = Create the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file
- * Step 2 = Open the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file and create the arguments
- * Step 3 = Invoke the ProcessPurchaseOrders.xaml file in the Main.xaml file and click Import Arguments
- * Step 4 = Pass the values of the arguments to/from the variables in the Main.xaml file This sequence will ensure that the developer can create a reusable workflow, invoke it from the main workflow, and pass data between them using arguments.

NEW QUESTION # 181

What represents a sequence that contains an activity with a partial selector?

- A.

- B.

- C.

- D.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A partial selector is a selector that does not contain the information about the top-level window. A partial selector is usually generated when a UI Automation activity is included in a container activity, such as Attach Browser or Attach Window, that has a full selector of the outer window. This way, the UI Automation activity can use the partial selector relative to the container, instead of the full selector from the root. A partial selector is indicated by the icon in the Properties panel of the UI Automation activity. In this question, the sequence that contains an activity with a partial selector is Option B, where the Click activity has the partial selector icon and is enclosed in an Attach Window activity. The other options have activities with full selectors, indicated by the icon . Therefore, the answer is B. Option B. References: Full Versus Partial Selectors, Selectors

NEW QUESTION # 182

What are the methods supported by Connector Builder in the UiPath Integration Service?

- A. Get, Get By Id, Put, Trace, Options
- B. Get, Post, Put, Trace
- C. Get, Get By Id, Post, Put, Patch, Delete
- D. Get, Post, Put, Options

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Connector Builder in the UiPath Integration Service allows developers to create custom API integrations with external applications. The supported HTTP methods include:

- * GET - Retrieves data from a resource.
- * GET BY ID - Retrieves a specific resource by its unique ID.
- * POST - Sends new data to a resource (e.g., creating new records).
- * PUT - Updates an existing resource by replacing it.
- * PATCH - Partially updates an existing resource (only certain fields).
- * DELETE - Removes a resource.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect?

- * A (Get, Post, Put, Options):
* Missing "Get By Id", "Patch", and "Delete" - these are essential for API interactions.
- * C (Get, Post, Put, Trace):
* "Trace" is not a supported method in UiPath Connector Builder.
- * D (Get, Get By Id, Put, Trace, Options):
* Missing "Post", "Patch", and "Delete" - critical methods for API requests.
