CompTIA DataSys+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q66-Q71):

NEW QUESTION # 66

A database administrator is updating an organization's ERD. Which of the following is the best option for the database administrator to use?

- A. Spreadsheet
- B. HTML editor
- C. Word processor
- D. UML tool

Answer: D

Explanation:

The best option for the database administrator to use to update an organization's ERD is a UML tool. A UML tool is a software application that allows users to create, edit, and visualize diagrams using the Unified Modeling Language (UML). UML is a standard language for modeling software systems and their components, such as classes, objects, relationships, behaviors, etc. UML can also be used to create entity relationship diagrams (ERDs), which are graphical representations of the entities (tables), attributes (columns), and relationships (constraints) in a database. A UML tool can help the administrator to update an organization's ERD by providing features such as drag-and-drop, templates, symbols, validation, etc. The other options are either not suitable or not optimal for this task. For example, a word processor is a software application that allows users to create and edit text documents; a spreadsheet is a software application that allows users to organize and manipulate data in rows and columns; an HTML editor is a software application that allows users to create and edit web pages using HyperText Markup Language (HTML). Reference: CompTIA DataSys+ Course Outline, Domain 2.0 Database Deployment, Objective 2.2 Given a scenario, create database objects using scripting and programming languages.

NEW QUESTION # 67

A database system crashed during a routine migration process. Which of the following should the systems administrator refer to for guidance in this situation?

- A. The access control policy
- B. The continuity of operations policy
- C. The data retention policy
- D. The database compliance policy

Answer: B

Explanation:

The continuity of operations policy provides guidelines and procedures for maintaining or restoring essential functions during and after disruptions like a database crash.

NEW QUESTION # 68

A database administrator needs to ensure data that is being migrated from a company's system to a third-party vendor is secure. Which of the following is the best security measure for the administrator to implement?

- A. Server-side encryption
- B. Data security audit
- C. Data loss prevention
- D. GDPR compliance

Answer: A

Explanation:

Server-side encryption protects data during migration by encrypting it, ensuring confidentiality and security when transferring to a third-party vendor.

NEW QUESTION # 69

Which of the following tools is used for natively running a Linux system in Windows?

- A. SSH
- B. WSL
- C. [Remote Desktop Protocol
- D. ITelnet

Answer: B

Explanation:

The tool that is used for natively running a Linux system in Windows is WSL. WSL, or Windows Subsystem for Linux, is a feature that allows users to run a Linux system natively on Windows 10 or Windows Server. WSL enables users to install and use various Linux distributions, such as Ubuntu, Debian, Fedora, etc., and run Linux commands, tools, applications, etc., without requiring a virtual machine or a dual-boot setup. WSL also provides users with interoperability and integration between Linux and Windows, such as file system access, network communication, process management, etc. WSL is useful for users who want to use Linux features or functionalities on Windows, such as development, testing, scripting, etc. The other options are either different tools or not related to running a Linux system in Windows at all. For example, Remote Desktop Protocol (RDP) is a protocol that allows users to remotely access and control another computer or device over a network; SSH, or Secure Shell, is a protocol that allows users to securely connect and communicate with another computer or device over a network; Telnet is a protocol that allows users to interact with another computer or device over a network using a text-based interface. Reference: CompTIA DataSys+ Course Outline, Domain 2.0 Database Deployment, Objective 2.2 Given a scenario, create database objects using scripting and programming languages.

NEW QUESTION # 70

Which of the following describes the purpose of a snapshot?

- A. To create a dynamic data replication
- B. To create a synonym
- C. To create an image of a database
- D. To create a tablespace

Answer: C

Explanation:

The purpose of a snapshot is to create an image of a database. A snapshot is a copy of the state and content of a database at a specific point in time. A snapshot can be used for various purposes, such as backup and recovery, testing and development, reporting and analysis, etc. A snapshot can be created using various techniques, such as full copy, incremental copy, differential copy, etc. A snapshot can also be created using various tools or commands provided by the database system or software.
