A production company is implementing Dynamics 365 Business Central.

The company must be able to analyze the total acquisition and maintenance cost of each production line.

The production lines must be set up as main assets with all the machines on the line set up as components.

Only the machines on the production line should have a book value and be depreciated.

You need to configure the system to post correctly for the production line assets. Which two actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose two.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

- A. Open the Fixed Asset Setup page.

- D. Make the production line asset inactive.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.

After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.

You need to transfer opening balances data into the system.

Solution: Import the data by using comma-separated values (CSV) files.

Does the solution meet the goal?

- A. No
- B. Yes

Answer: A

Explanation:

Simply importing a CSV file is not sufficient to bring in opening balances into Dynamics 365 Business Central because the system requires structured mapping of data to the correct tables (e.g., G/L entries, customer/vendor balances, item journals). CSV import without RapidStart configuration packages or assisted setup does not guarantee correct posting, validations, and relationships.

Business Central does not support direct raw CSV imports to ledger tables out of the box.
