NEW QUESTION # 81

A Salesforce Associate is asked to review multiple reports from the current month's folder and bring insight into a meeting. How should the associate locate all the reports in a single location from the Report object?

- A. Click on All Folders and use the search bar
- B. Use the Global search bar
- C. Click on All Reports and use the search bar

Answer: A

Explanation:

The way that the associate can locate all the reports in a single location from the Report object is to click on All Folders and use the search bar. All Folders is a menu that shows all the report and dashboard folders that the associate has access to. The associate can search for the current month's folder by entering its name or keyword in the search bar and then select it to view all the reports in that folder. Using the Global search bar or clicking on All Reports and using the search bar are not as efficient and accurate as using the All Folders menu, because they will return results from all the reports and folders, not just the current month's folder.

- A. Costs more than single-tenant architecture
- B. Shares resources with other tenants

Each tenant's data is securely isolated, but they share common resources, such as server space, database instances, and updates. This approach ensures cost efficiency and scalability.

NEW QUESTION # 84

Get Cloudy Consulting (GCC) needs an environment to onboard new hires as well as develop, implement, and test new requirements.

Which type of environment should OCC use?

- A. Trailhead Playground
- B. Production
- C. Sandbox

Answer: C

Explanation:

A sandbox is the type of environment that GCC should use to onboard new hires as well as develop, implement, and test new requirements. A sandbox is a copy of the production environment that allows the user to create and test changes without affecting the live data and users. A sandbox can have different types and sizes, depending on the purpose and scope of the changes. For example, a developer sandbox can be used to create and test code, a partial copy sandbox can be used to test large data sets, and a full sandbox can be used to perform performance testing and user acceptance testing. A production environment is the live environment that contains the real data and users. A production environment should not be used to onboard new hires or develop, implement, and test new requirements, because it could compromise the data quality and security, and disrupt the user experience. A Trailhead Playground is a type of environment that allows the user to learn and practice Salesforce skills using Trailhead. A Trailhead Playground is not connected to the production environment, and it does not have the same features and functionality as a sandbox.
