Oracle Cloud Database Services 2025 Professional Sample Questions (Q88-Q93):

NEW QUESTION # 88
You are responsible for managing the storage configuration of an Exadata Database Service (ExaDB). You need to use the cellcli utility to modify the IORM (I/O Resource Management) settings to prioritize critical database workloads. Specifically, you want to adjust the share allocation for a specific database. Which cellcli command will accomplish this?

- A. cellcli modify iormplan database dbname shares=value
- B. cellcli configure iormplan database dbname shares=value
- C. cellcli alter iormplan database dbname shares=value
- D. cellcli change iormplan database dbname shares=value

Answer: C

Explanation:
A: cellcli alter iormplan database dbname shares=value
CellCLI Utility:
* cellcli is a command-line interface used to manage Exadata storage cells.
* Thealtercommand is used to modify existing configurations, including IORM plans.
* IORM (I/O Resource Management):
* Helps control how I/O resources are allocated among databases.
* Thesharesparameter adjusts the relative priority of I/O requests.
* Correct syntax for adjusting IORM:
bash
CopyEdit
cellcli -e "alter iormplan database dbname shares=value"
Why the other options are incorrect:
* B. configure iormplan:Used for creating or setting up new IORM plans, not for modification.
* C. modify iormplan:modify is not a valid command in CellCLI for IORM.
* D. change iormplan:No such command exists in CellCLI.

NEW QUESTION # 89
When migrating to MySQL HeatWave on Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI), what is the recommended method for securely transferring large database backups?

- A. Using the Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Data Transfer Service with physical storage appliances.
- B. Use of Data Pump with a database link.
- C. Creating a secure VPN connection and transferring the backup files using scp.
- D. Transferring the backup files directly over the public internet using FTP.
- E. Shipping physical hard drives containing the backup files to the OCI data center.

Answer: A

Explanation:
Secure Transfer with OCI Data Transfer Service:
TheOCI Data Transfer Serviceis designed to securely transfer large datasets, including database backups, to the cloud. It involves:
* Using physical storage appliancesto copy data locally and then shipping these devices to OCI data centers.
* Data isencrypted and securely transported, minimizing the risks associated with online transfers.
* This method is cost-effective and practical forterabytes or petabytes of data, avoiding bandwidth limitations and reducing transfer time.
Why the other options are incorrect:
* A:FTP over the public internet is insecure and slow.
* B:Physical hard drives without encryption and secure handling increase data breach risks.
* D:SCP over VPN is secure but impractical for extremely large datasets.
* E:Data Pump is useful for database-to-database transfers, not large file migrations.

NEW QUESTION # 90
Which two are valid storage options you must select when provisioning Exadata Database Service using the Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI) Console?

- A. The database name and version.
- B. The number of CPUs required for the Exadata Database Service Instance.
- C. The size of the DATA disk group and RECO disk group.
- D. Data disk group encryption using Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Vault.
- E. Data disk group compression and deduplication algorithm.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:
A:Data disk group encryption using OCI Vault provides enhanced security for sensitive data by encrypting data stored within the Exadata storage cells.
B:During provisioning, the size of theDATA and RECO disk groupsmust be specified. The DATA disk group is used for primary database files, while the RECO disk group is used for recovery-related files.
Why the other options are incorrect:
* C:CPU count is part of the compute configuration, not storage.
* D:Compression and deduplication settings are managed at the database level, not during storage configuration.
* E:Database name and version are part of the database configuration, not storage settings.

NEW QUESTION # 91
Which two functionalities are provided by the SQL Performance Analyzer (SPA) within Database Management, aiding in cloud database tuning?

- A. Automatically rewrite SQL queries to improve their performance.
- B. Compare the performance of SQL statements before and after a database change (e.g., upgrade, parameter change).
- C. Generate a report highlighting the performance impact of a specific database change on a set of SQL statements.
- D. Analyze the execution plan of a SQL statement and suggest alternative indexing strategies.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:
B: Compare SQL performance before and after changes:
* SPA evaluates the effect of configuration changes, upgrades, or patches on SQL performance.
* Provides insights into whether a change improves or degrades query performance.
C: Generate performance impact reports:
* SPA generates reports summarizing the effects of specific changes on SQL workload performance.
* Helps DBAs make informed decisions before implementing changes in production.
Why the other options are incorrect:
* A. Automatically rewriting SQL:SPA does not modify queries; it only analyzes and compares performance.
* D. Suggesting indexing strategies:SPA evaluates performance impacts, but indexing recommendations are made by the SQL Tuning Advisor.

NEW QUESTION # 92
When provisioning an Exadata Database Service, which two networking components are mandatory?

- A. A private subnet for the client network to ensure secure database access.
- B. A private subnet for database backups to Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Object Storage.
- C. A NAT Gateway for each VM within the VM Cluster to allow outbound internet access for patching.
- D. A public subnet for the Exadata Infrastructure to allow external access for monitoring.
- E. A Service Gateway to allow access to Oracle Services without traversing the public internet.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:
C: Private subnet for client network:

* Essential for secure access to the databases hosted on the Exadata Database Service instance.
* Ensures that client connections are restricted and managed through private IPs.
E: Private subnet for database backups:
* Used to securely connect to Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Object Storage for storing backups.
* Enables data protection without exposing the backup traffic to the public internet.
Why the other options are incorrect:
* A. Public subnet for monitoring:Not required; secure access can be configured through private subnets.
* B. Service Gateway:Optional, used for connecting to Oracle services without using the public internet.
* D. NAT Gateway:Not mandatory unless specific outbound connectivity is required.
