UiPath Automation Business Analyst Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48

Which of the following best describes a human-in-the-loop automation model?

- A. Unattended robots request user input at certain steps
- B. Robots run independently without user input
- C. Robots only work when manually triggered
- D. Users control the robot's every action in real time

Answer: A

Explanation:

In a human-in-the-loop automation model, unattended robots perform processes automatically but pause and request user input when required. This model allows robots to handle repetitive and rule-based tasks while humans intervene in scenarios that require decision-making or approval.

UiPath supports human-in-the-loop functionality using tools such as UiPath Action Center, where users can review exceptions, provide additional data, or make business decisions. Once the input is received, the automation resumes and completes the rest of the process autonomously.

This model is particularly useful for processes involving compliance checks, approvals, or document verification - blending the speed of automation with human judgment where necessary.

NEW QUESTION # 49

Which document serves as the technical blueprint during the development stage?

- A. Solution Design Document (SDD)
- B. Application Tracker
- C. Process Definition Document (PDD)
- D. Statement of Work (SOW)

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Solution Design Document (SDD) serves as the technical blueprint for the development stage of an automation project. This document is created primarily by the Solution Architect and includes detailed specifications for how the automation should be built. The SDD outlines the To-Be process flow, module design, exception handling logic, data flows, and technical components to be used. It builds on the business requirements documented in the PDD, translating them into an actionable, structured format that developers follow to implement the solution in UiPath Studio.

A well-prepared SDD ensures the development is aligned with the business goals, reduces ambiguity, and avoids scope creep. It also assists in development reviews and helps validate that the final automation meets functional and technical expectations.

NEW QUESTION # 50

Which stage involves preparing the solution for live operation and monitoring its stability?

- A. Deployment and Hypercare
- B. Business Case and Technical Validation
- C. Project Closure
- D. Process Analysis

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Deployment and Hypercare stage is where the automation is prepared for live operation, and the stability of the deployed solution is closely monitored. This stage ensures that the automation, now in production, is performing as expected and that any early issues are resolved quickly.

Key activities in this stage include:

- * Deploying the automation to the production environment
- * Verifying production environment configurations
- * Monitoring bot behavior and performance
- * Providing quick support for unexpected issues
- * Training end users if needed

The Hypercare period is a temporary support window post-deployment in which the Automation Developer, Solution Architect, and Project Manager remain closely involved to resolve defects, gather feedback, and fine-tune the automation. This stage is critical to ensure user confidence and smooth adoption of the automation into regular operations.

NEW QUESTION # 51

What is the first stage in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology?

- A. Kickoff
- B. Solution Design
- C. Business Case and Technical Validation
- D. Process Analysis

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Kickoff stage is the first formal stage in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology. It marks the official beginning of the automation project. During this phase, initial planning and alignment take place between the Client Team and the Implementation Team. This includes defining high-level project scope, identifying key stakeholders, and setting expectations regarding timelines, deliverables, roles, and responsibilities.

The project manager, solution architect, and infrastructure engineer from the Implementation Team typically participate in the Kickoff meeting to ensure technical and managerial aspects are properly addressed.

Discussions also include initial access requirements, infrastructure needs, availability of Client Team members, and user involvement. An essential output of this stage is the reviewed Statement of Work (SOW), which outlines the agreement on the scope and project objectives. This stage sets the foundation for the successful execution of the remaining stages by aligning all parties on the project's goals and ensuring that the groundwork for collaboration is firmly in place.

NEW QUESTION # 52

What is the role of the Business Analyst during the Business Case and Technical Validation phase of the Implementation Methodology?

- A. Identifies the key complexities, technical dependencies and the access needed
- B. Creates the UAT plan together with the client team
- C. Drafts the Process Definition Document
- D. Validates the business case for the selected use cases for automation and the cost benefits

Answer: D

Explanation:

During the Business Case and Technical Validation phase, the Business Analyst (BA) plays a critical role in ensuring that proposed automation opportunities are not only feasible but also beneficial to the organization.

Their primary responsibility is to validate the business case for the selected use cases and analyze the cost-benefit aspect of automating those processes. This means the BA must work closely with stakeholders to quantify potential savings, estimate effort reductions, determine ROI, and compare the current manual process performance against projected automated performance.

The BA evaluates factors such as volume, frequency, time spent, error rates, and the strategic value of automating the process. By doing this, the BA ensures that only high-value and viable processes proceed to the next stage of implementation. This step prevents wasted effort on low-impact or overly complex use cases that do not contribute meaningful business value.

Additionally, the BA collaborates with the Solution Architect to ensure the business and technical perspectives align. The outcome of this phase becomes a key input for prioritizing automation candidates and ensuring that automation initiatives deliver measurable improvements.
