NEW QUESTION # 21
A Developer discovers the following code snippet in default.xml layout:
<referenceBlock name="content">
<block name="custom" template="example.phtml" cacheable="false" />
</referenceBlock>
Which caching behavior will occur?

- A. All pages will be marked as non-cacheable.
- B. The content block and all its child blocks will become cacheable.
- C. Only the custom block will not be cached.

Answer: A

Explanation:
In Magento, if any block within the page layout is marked cacheable="false", the entire page becomes non- cacheable. This means that full-page caching (FPC) will be disabled for all pages containing that block.

Option A is incorrect: cacheability is applied at the page level, not per block.
Option C is misleading; cacheable blocks remain cacheable only if no non-cacheable blocks are present.

NEW QUESTION # 23

A recent client-reported bug is fixed by the Adobe Commerce community. The Adobe engineering team has not yet released the patch or committed the bug fix to GitHub. A Developer acquires the custom patch and releases it to their Adobe Commerce environments.
What are the recommended steps the Developer should follow to implement the custom patch for the bug fix?

- A. Install only official patches supplied by them to maintain upgradability.
- B. Install the cweagans/composer-patches module and edit the composer.json file to apply the custom patch.
- C. Update the quality-patches module and list the required patch in the magento-ce-patch.yaml file.

Answer: B

Explanation:
If a bug fix patch has not yet been officially released by Adobe (via Quality Patches Tool (QPT)), developers can apply custom patches using the cweagans/composer-patches package.
Option A is best practice in general, but in urgent scenarios, custom patches are allowed.
Option B applies only for official Adobe patches distributed via QPT, not for community-supplied or custom fixes.
Option C is correct: cweagans/composer-patches allows applying custom patches via composer.json until an official fix is available.
