Questions (Q137-Q142):

NEW QUESTION # 137

During checkout flow customizations, a developer receives an error on shipping cost calculation integrations with the error code: `INSUFFICIENT_ACCESS_OR_READONLY`.

What is causing this error?

- A. The storefront user does not have access to the Cart Delivery Method object.
- B. The storefront user does not have access to custom fields on the Order Delivery Method object.
- C. The cart is no longer in a valid Checkout State.
- D. An error has occurred during the cart shipping charge integration.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The error code `INSUFFICIENT_ACCESS_OR_READONLY` is caused by the cart being no longer in a valid Checkout State during checkout flow customizations. A cart is an object that represents a collection of products and charges that a customer intends to purchase in the storefront. A cart has a Checkout State field that indicates the current state of the checkout process for the cart. The Checkout State can have values such as Draft, InProgress, Completed, or Cancelled. A cart can only be modified or updated when it is in Draft or InProgress state. A cart cannot be modified or updated when it is in Completed or Cancelled state. If an attempt is made to modify or update a cart that is in Completed or Cancelled state, an error with the code `INSUFFICIENT_ACCESS_OR_READONLY` will be thrown. This error means that the user does not have permission to edit or delete a record because it is read-only or locked. The storefront user does not have access to the Cart Delivery Method object is not a cause of this error code, as it is not related to the cart checkout state or data modification. The Cart Delivery Method object is an object that stores information about the delivery method selected for a cart in the storefront. An error has occurred during the cart shipping charge integration is not a cause of this error code either, as it is not related to the cart checkout state or data modification. The cart shipping charge integration is an integration that calculates and applies shipping charges to a cart based on various factors such as delivery method, location, weight, volume, etc. The storefront user does not have access to custom fields on the Order Delivery Method object is not a cause of this error code either, as it is not related to the cart checkout state or data modification. The Order Delivery Method object is an object that stores information about the delivery method selected for an order summary in the storefront. NEW QUESTION # 138

What interface must a developer implement to override Tax in Checkout?

- A. `sfdc_checkout.TaxCalculations`
- B. `sfdc.checkout.CartTaxCalculations`
- C. `sfdc.commerce.CheckoutTaxCalculations`
- D. `sfdc.commerce.TaxCalculations`
- E. `sfdc_commerce.CartTaxCalculations`

Answer: A

Explanation:

To override tax in checkout, a developer must implement the `sfdc_checkout.TaxCalculations` interface. The `sfdc_checkout.TaxCalculations` interface is an Apex interface that provides methods for customizing the tax calculation logic for a cart or an order. The interface allows the developer to define how to retrieve tax rates and rules, how to apply tax amounts and adjustments, and how to handle tax errors and exceptions. The developer can use the `sfdc_checkout.TaxCalculations` interface to integrate with a third-party tax service provider or to implement their own tax calculation logic. The other interfaces do not exist or are not related to tax calculation. Salesforce B2B Commerce Developer Guide: Tax Integration, B2B Commerce Developer Guide: Tax Calculations Interface

NEW QUESTION # 139

A developer attempts to export data from an org by launching Data Loader, selecting a standard entity, clicking the "Select All Fields" button and clicking the Finish button. The developer finds that the `CustomField_c` field they added to the entity has no values under the header in the CSV file output. What is the root cause?

- A. The developer does not have the correct JDK that is recommended by Salesforce and this is known to cause issues with exporting custom attributes
- B. The field is not populated
- C. The developer does not have access to the object's metadata
- D. The user does not have rights to the custom field

Answer: D

Explanation:

The root cause of why the CustomField__c field they added to the entity has no values under the header in the CSV file output is that the user does not have rights to the custom field. A user's access to a field is determined by their profile and permission sets, which define their field-level security settings. Field-level security settings control whether a user can see, edit, or delete the value for a particular field on an object. If a user does not have access to a field, they will not be able to view or modify its value in any interface, including Data Loader. Data Loader is a tool that allows users to import or export data between Salesforce and CSV files. When using Data Loader to export data from an org, Data Loader will only include fields that are accessible to the user based on their field-level security settings. If a user does not have access to a field, Data Loader will not include that field in the CSV file, neither as a column header nor as a value. The developer does not have the correct JDK that is recommended by Salesforce and this is known to cause issues with exporting custom attributes is not the root cause of why CustomField__c has no values under the header in the CSV file output, as it is not related to field access or Data Loader functionality. The developer does not have access to the object's metadata is not the root cause either, as it is not related to field access or Data Loader functionality. The object's metadata defines its structure and properties, such as fields, relationships, and layouts. The field is not populated is not the root cause either, as it contradicts the fact that CustomField__c has no column header in the CSV file output. If the field was not populated but accessible to the user, Data Loader would still include CustomField__c as a column header in the CSV file, but leave its values blank. NEW QUESTION # 140

How can a developer make an integration available for selection?

- A. Enter the integration class name and version in Store Administration
- B. Modify the StoreIntegrated Service to map to an Apex class id using workbench
- C. The integration is available once it is uploaded
- D. Create a RegisteredExternalService record using Workbench

Answer: D

Explanation:

To make an integration available for selection in Salesforce B2B Commerce, a developer must create a RegisteredExternalService record. This can be accomplished using tools like Workbench, which allow for direct interaction with Salesforce's backend database. By registering the external service, the integration becomes selectable within the B2B Commerce setup, allowing it to be associated with specific stores or contexts. Salesforce documentation on integrating external services with B2B Commerce provides step-by-step instructions on registering these services to enable seamless integration and functionality within the platform.

NEW QUESTION # 141

Which two practices are allowed when it comes to naming a Lightning Web Components folder and associated files?

- A. Beginning with a lowercase letter
- B. Including whitespace
- C. Using a single hyphen (dash)
- D. Using a single underscore

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

When naming a Lightning Web Components folder and associated files, Salesforce best practices allow the name to begin with a lowercase letter and to use a single hyphen (dash) for compound names. Whitespace and underscores are not recommended in the naming convention. This is in line with web standards for custom elements. More details can be found in the Salesforce LWC documentation on naming conventions: Salesforce LWC Naming Conventions.
