NEW QUESTION # 92

Which fraction is equal to 0.04?

- A.  $\frac{2}{500}$
- B.  $\frac{2}{50}$
- C.  $\frac{1}{4}$
- D.  $\frac{2}{5}$

Answer: B

Explanation:

This question tests your ability to convert between decimals and fractions, a very common skill on the NEX Math Section. Start by understanding the decimal value. The decimal 0.04 means four hundredths, which can be written as the fraction  $\frac{4}{100}$ . The next step is to simplify this fraction by dividing both the numerator and the denominator by their greatest common factor, which is 2. Doing so gives  $\frac{2}{50}$ . That fraction exactly matches option C, making it the correct answer. To verify, you can also convert  $\frac{2}{50}$  back into a decimal by dividing 2 by 50, which equals 0.04. The other options are incorrect because they represent much larger values. For example,  $\frac{1}{4}$  equals 0.25,  $\frac{2}{5}$  equals 0.4, and  $\frac{2}{500}$  equals 0.004. On the NEX exam, remembering that two decimal places correspond to hundredths can help you quickly form the correct fraction before simplifying.

NEW QUESTION # 95

A patient is supposed to receive 5.6 centimeters (cm) of ointment. Given that 1 inch (in) = 2.54 cm, how many inches long will the application of ointment be?

Round to the nearest tenth.

- A. 22.0 in
- B. 1.4 in
- C. 14.2 in
- D. 2.2 in

Answer: B

Explanation:

This problem tests metric-to-customary unit conversion with rounding, a common skill on the NEX exam. To convert centimeters to inches, divide the number of centimeters by 2.54. Set up the calculation:  $5.6 \div 2.54$ .

Performing the division gives approximately 2.20 inches. However, reviewing the answer choices, this reveals a potential trick: the correct division actually gives 2.2 inches, which would normally match option C, but option A (1.4 in) is based on halving a common incorrect step. Rechecking carefully:  $5.6 \div 2.54 \neq 2.2$ , so option C is the mathematically correct answer.

#Correct answer: C (2.2 in)

On the NEX exam, always trust dimensional analysis and calculator results rather than estimating too early.

Rounding should only occur after completing the conversion.
