ASIS Physical Security Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q310-Q315):

NEW QUESTION # 310

The primary functions of a physical protection system are:

- A. Delay, response, and deterrence
- B. Prevention, detection, and response
- C. Detection, delay, and response
- D. Deterrence, detection, and response

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive Detailed Explanation:

The three primary and sequential functions of a Physical Protection System (PPS) are:

Detection - identifying unauthorized activity.

Delay - slowing intruder progress.

Response - intervening before asset compromise.

This layered approach ensures an opportunity to detect and intercept threats before they succeed.

A and D include "deterrence" or "prevention," which are security goals but not primary PPS functions.

C lists valid concepts but omits the critical detection phase.

NEW QUESTION # 311

Which of the following is the most widely accepted classification of skills for the leadership?

- A. Conceptual
- B. Human relations
- C. All of the above
- D. Skill Mix

Answer: C

Explanation:

The most widely accepted classification of leadership skills includes:

Conceptual skills: Ability to think abstractly and see the "big picture" Human relations skills: Interpersonal and communication capabilities Technical skills: Expertise and proficiency in specific tasks These skill sets are collectively known as the "skill mix" and are essential for effective security leadership.

NEW QUESTION # 312

A hybrid system is a combination of:

- A. Proprietary & Contract security
- B. Standard & Security acts
- C. Security consultants & services
- D. Security & Control

Answer: A

Explanation:

A hybrid security system combines both proprietary (in-house) and contract security personnel. This model is used by organizations that want to retain control over some security functions while outsourcing others to reduce costs or gain specialized capabilities. For example, an organization may employ proprietary officers for critical access control but use contract guards for patrolling or monitoring.

NEW QUESTION # 313

The common practices in recruiting a jihadist are:

- A. identifying individuals with appropriate ideology
- B. indoctrination
- C. training and preparation for the terrorist act
- D. All of the above

Answer: D

Explanation:

Recruitment into jihadist or other terrorist movements typically involves identifying individuals vulnerable to radical ideology, indoctrinating them through propaganda and religious misinterpretation, and then training them for operational activities, including attacks or support roles.

NEW QUESTION # 314

Which of the following lamp types emits an almost monochromatic yellow light and provides the poorest color rendition for a CCTV camera?

- A. Metal halide
- B. Fluorescent
- C. Incandescent
- D. Low-pressure sodium

Answer: D

Explanation:

Low-pressure sodium (LPS) lamps emit a nearly monochromatic yellow light, which severely limits color rendition. This makes them unsuitable for CCTV surveillance where accurate color reproduction is needed.

They are, however, energy efficient and used in some outdoor lighting applications where color accuracy is not critical.

B (Incandescent), C (Fluorescent), and D (Metal halide) all offer better color rendition than LPS lamps, with metal halide being the best for color fidelity.
