Juniper Enterprise Routing and Switching, Specialist (JNCIS-ENT) Sample Questions (Q12-Q17):

NEW QUESTION # 12
You are troubleshooting a BGP routing issue between your network and a customer router and are reviewing the BGP routing policies. Which two statements are correct in this scenario?
(Choose two.)

- A. Import policies are applied to routes in the RIB-Local table.
- B. Export policies are applied after the RIB-Local table.
- C. Import policies are applied after the RIB-In table.
- D. Export policies are applied to routes in the RIB-In table.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:
In BGP, routing policies are used to control the flow of routing information between BGP peers.
Option C suggests that import policies are applied after the RIB-In table. This is correct because import policies in BGP are applied to routes that are received from a BGP peer, before they are installed in the local BGP Routing Information Base (RIB-In). The RIB-In is a database that stores all the routes that are received from all peers.
Option D suggests that export policies are applied after the RIB-Local table. This is correct because export policies in BGP are applied to routes that are being advertised to a BGP peer, after they have been selected from the local BGP Routing Information Base (RIB-Local). The RIB-Local is a database that stores all the routes that the local router is using.

- D. 1800 seconds

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 15
Which OSPF packet type is sent when an OSPF router detects its database is stale?

- A. link-state acknowledgment
- B. link-state request

- C. database description
- D. hello

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 16
Which two statements about redundant trunk groups on EX Series switches are correct? (Choose two.)

- A. Redundant trunk groups load-balance traffic across two designated uplink interfaces.
- B. Redundant trunk groups must be connected to the same aggregation switch.
- C. If the active link fails, then the secondary link automatically takes over.
- D. Layer 2 control traffic is permitted on the secondary link

Answer: C,D

Explanation:
Redundant trunk groups are designed to provide link redundancy. If the primary link fails, the secondary link will automatically take over to ensure continued connectivity.
In redundant trunk groups, while regular data traffic is sent over the primary link, Layer 2 control traffic (such as STP, LACP, etc.) is allowed on the secondary link to maintain network stability and protocol operations.
